Sooke and Jordan River were isolated by two highway washouts today, and workmen this afternoon were speeding repairs to restore communications.

Loggers from the Canadian Puget Sound Co. at Jordan River, and the Elder Logging Co. at Sooke, were assisting provincial public works department crews at both breaks.

One occurred near the 17-Mile House when a creek, swollen by torrential rains, swept a culvert away, leaving a hole in the highway 15 feet wide and 15 feet deep.

Timbers were rushed to the break from Sooke, and road equipment was rushed from Langford and it was hoped that a temporary bridge could be built by Thursday.

The second washout is on the Coal Creek Hill at Shirley, nine miles from Jordan River. Constable Alan Quinn of the B.C. Police reported the whole hill had been washed out by the rains.

Jordan River loggers were trying to rebuild the highway in the section.

Meanwhile flood damage in the city and surrounding municipalities mounted as heavy rains continued to fall.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Mr. Justice A. M. Manson in Assize Court today accepted "complete apologies and regret" of Jack Randall, manager of the Strand Theatre, who was charged with contempt of court.

Randall and Milton S. Roberts, urban representative of the National Film Board, were called

To answer contempt charges following a street-corner narcotics display, Roberts also apologized.

No penalty was imposed by the court but costs, to be determined, were assessed against the theatre manager.

The display, advertising a film on narcotics traffic, showed photographs and newspaper clippings dealing with a case now before the court.

"It is a very regrettable incident," said Mr. Justice Manson. "Mr. Randall probably didn't realize the trial was ahead instead of behind. . . . We all blunder no matter how careful we are. . . .

"Anything calculated to influence the course of justice takes place outside the courts is a very serious matter."

Plane Wreckage

St. Laurent Given

Confidence Vote

OTTAWA (CP)—The parliamentary Liberal caucus, attended by members of both Commons and Senate, today gave a vote of confidence in the leadership of Prime Minister St. Laurent.

Some significance was attached to this one because of two recent by-election defeats in ridings formerly held by Liberals.

There were also indications after the closed meeting that the next budget will contain vote-winning features.

STOCKHOLM (CP)—Canada faced off against Sweden tonight in a world amateur hockey championship match after a crowd of some 5,000 persons tried to prevent the Canadian team from entering the stadium here.

More than 50 persons were hurt—none of them Canadians—as the huge crowd attempted to block the bus carrying the Sudbury Wolves, Canada's entry in the tournament. Iron fences around the stadium were torn down and it took police more than an hour to quell the disturbance.

The game was scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m., but did not get under way until one and one-half hours later.

At the pre-game crowds became unruly, police reinforcements were sent for and ambulances were called to take the injured to hospitals.

One Woman's Day

By NANCY HODGES

MINDS AND HANDS

I WISH EVERY resident of Greater Victoria could have seen the exhibit which has been staged in the rotunda under the dome of the Parliament Buildings for the last 10 days. At first glance it looks like a collection of the varied work of some guild of handicraft experts, or a display staged by professional craftworkers, such as you see at the big fairs. But what it actually represents is the handiwork carried on by patients in British Columbia's mental hospitals as part of the government's occupational therapy program.

EXQUISITE WORK

ALL THE ARTICLES in the display were produced in the occupational therapy workshops of the provincial mental hospitals at Essondale, New Westminster and Colquitz, by men, women and children—whose minds are disturbed. But you would never know it to look at the lovely things their hands have produced. Take the exquisite tea cloth and four matching napkins, for instance. The elaborate cutwork design is stitched in pale blue, and the quality of the needlework is so high that the back is every bit as fine as the front.

And I found it rather moving to see that the French woman who fashioned that lovely set had left her imprint on it, not only in the exquisite stitchery but by skillfully, unobtrusively, incorporating her first name into the pattern, as if to substantiate how much of herself she had put into its creation.

PROSPECTORS' PACKHORSE

A BEAUTIFULLY-MODELED replica of a burdened pack-horse caught my eye, and I learned that it was the work of an old prospector who had carved it in its entirety—base and all—out of one piece of wood. Not only was every detail of the pack-blankets, food supplies, pick and shovel, shown, but the animal itself was lifelike in its attitude of exhaustion, as it drooped under its burden.

To me that little model suggested that while that old man's mind may have lost some of its former powers of concentration, at least it has never forgotten long days on the trail, in the sole company of a much-loved, four-legged companion who doubtless shared in many a hardship and disappointment, and whose likeness has been perpetuated with such patient, painstaking exactitude.

GNARLED FINGERS

THEN THERE WAS the beautifully-made little "woolie" doll in Highland costume, the doll itself, its wee plaid kilt, black velvet coat and Scotch "bonnet," all fashioned by an old lady whose hands are so crippled with arthritis that she had to use her mouth to wind the wool around the legs of the tiny figure.

Another striking bit of embroidery was of an Oriental-looking dancer. It was the work of a patient who had rescued a scrap of calico from a ragbag for background, and every bit of its exquisite stitchery was done with tiny ends of colored silk thread which she had picked up from the workroom floor after hoarding. The finished product reminded me of the silk-embroidered pictures from the Orient.

GREAT VARIETY

AMONG THE SEVERAL hundred exhibits in the collection are most artistic samples of pottery, ceramics, petting, metal work, including a professional-looking tea service of hammered copper, numerous paintings—among them a pastoral scene done entirely in house paints—wood carving, weaving and a host of other crafts.

In addition to these artistic undertakings, the patients also help to produce and repair their own clothing and nurses' uniforms, make furniture, repair shoes, and follow many other useful occupations.

And after seeing with my own eyes the beautiful creations produced by the hands of people who, not so very long ago would have been considered incapable of any such effort, I can well imagine the pleasure, as well as the healing, these therapeutic occupations must bring to their poor sick minds.

Canadian Cycle Championships, Awarded Vancouver

VANCOUVER, (CP)—The 1949 Canadian bicycle championships will be staged here in October for the first time in 19 years.

The last and only championship meet held west of the Rockies was in 1939 at the Hastings Park racetrack here.

Henry Vann Berkel, chairman of the British Columbia branch of the Canadian Wheelman's Association, made the announcement Tuesday.

The scene this year will be the new hard-surfaced Digney Speedway in suburban Burnaby. It's an asphalt track.

An eastern Canada contingent of at least four top riders is expected. The meet will decide the ultimate British Empire Games team that will embark for New Zealand in December.

Championship distances for the 1949 races: 1/4 mile, 1/2 mile, 1 mile, five, 10 and 25 mile, and one-mile junior.

McCracken Takes Scoring Title In Junior Hockey Loop

WINNIPEG, (CP)—Winger Bill McCracken of Winnipeg Monarchs emerged as the individual scoring champion in the Manitoba Junior Hockey League with 49 points from 26 goals and 23 assists, official final league statistics showed today.

Jack McKenzie and Glen Somnor, forwards with Brandon Wheat Kings, tied for second place with 48 points. McKenzie, out several weeks late in the schedule because of an attack of chicken pox, finished with 25 goals and 23 assists. Somnor had 18 goals and 30 assists, topping the league in the "helping hand" category.

League's top goal-getter was Andy Heberton of Winnipeg Canadiens with 29. Brandon's Frank King was top man in the penalty parade with 78 minutes. Brandon had the top point-making defenceman in Joe Crozier, with 27.

YOUTH LEADER HERE—Accompanying Dr. L. David Cowie, at First Baptist Church tonight at 8, will be a fine group of talent from the city of Seattle, First. Cap Stabbert, a businessman and licensed skipper, will be at the organ with versatile interpretation of the spiritual songs of the youth of today. Bernice Schwedler has had a reputation on the piano for some years, appearing before the public at many recitals and meetings. Dorothy Sykes, with her marvellous voice from Chicago and has been greatly in demand at public gatherings. Luella Ortman, vocal soloist, joined the group at a late moment, and so will add immensely to the vigor and versatility of the program. Dr. Cowie will be addressing two groups of students during the day, as well as being the main speaker for the evening meeting.

Consultation Of Provinces Not Needed, House Decides

OTTAWA, (CP)—The Commons Tuesday night swept aside two motions which might have delayed the long-awaited union of Canada and Newfoundland.

By a vote of 137 to 66, the chamber blocked a thrust by George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, which would have required the government to consult with the provinces before asking the United Kingdom parliament to amend the British North America Act and give full force to the projected alliance.

By another whacking vote of 191 to 127 it rejected a second move by a private member—Wilfrid Lacroix (Liberal, Quebec, Montreal)—which would have gone a step further and specified that the provinces must "consent" to the union.

TWO DAYS OF DEBATE

Both were appended to the main government motion to ask the United Kingdom parliament to pass an act amending the B.N.A. Act—Canada's constitution—to complete the union.

The amendments developed in two days of rough-and-tumble debate over the ticklish constitutional question of whether the provinces should be given a say on changes that the Dominion

When the Progressive Conservative motion came up, it won support only from the Progressive Conservatives themselves, the Social Credit group and a few Independents. The Liberal and C.C.F. parties banded together to defeat it.

Second 30-mile heat was to be run today, with the third and final heat of the 90-mile race on Thursday, when Viscount Alexander is scheduled to officiate.

Flood Maroons House On Argyle Street Two Others Threatened In Rain Storm

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wells, 1930 Argyle Street, look at the scene of desolation around the home of their next-door neighbor, Mrs. Walter Fish, 1936 Argyle, today.

Gushing in torrents from hilly property across the street, floods have completely marooned the newly-purchased bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fish at 1936 Argyle Street.

A second house has been cut off from the front by the basement under two feet of water and rising all the time. A third has a river of water running by its side with water flowing under the house, which has no basement.

"We moved in two weeks ago today," said Mrs. Fish disconsolately.

She was contacted by telephone since it was impossible to make an entrance to the house.

"The milkman hasn't been and I doubt if the laundryman can come. I can't go out to shop. I'll just have to wait until my husband gets home from work."

On one side of her house was the bungalow of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Wells, recently out from England, who moved into their house a month ago.

"I am mad," said Mrs. Denis Taylor of 1940 Argyle, as she surveyed the ruin of what was her front garden and the flooded basement.

"If this is living in Saanich, it's too much of luxury for me. I've have to find something cheaper."

In the pretty and nicely kept bungalow, which she has lived in a year and a half, Mrs. Taylor said the property flooded last year, "but nothing like this."

"We asked Saanich to put a ditch in last year, but after looking the area over, they said rock would have to be blasted and nothing was done," she said.

AND A NEW LOAD OF SAWDUST

"The water rushed in so fast at 9 this morning, I couldn't move anything from the basement. We were lucky enough to get a load of dry wood and some sawdust. It's all down there in the water, along with my washing machine, for which we had to get a new motor after the last flood."

Paper, books, wood were floating around the basement. A barrowful of wood was stranded in the driveway, with the water nearly to the top of it. Mr. Taylor left last night on a business trip up-island.

"This will be something nice to come home, too," said Mrs. Taylor.

'YOU CAN HAVE IT'

Disgust was expressed by Mrs. Wells as she viewed the scene from the doorway of her home.

"If this is Canada you can have it," she said bitterly as she watched the ever-rising water, some of which is already under the house, the rest flowing by the side foundation.

"We pay our taxes and this is what we get, no pavements, no roads, no drains. It's disgusting."

"They don't tell you this sort of thing when you buy the house."

Mrs. Taylor called the water works department of Saanich and "they said they would get after it, but had so many calls because of flooding."

Flood Damage Mounting To Thousands In This District

The worst floods since 1935 are being fought in Greater Victoria and the lower part of Vancouver Island today and waters are rising. Thousands of dollars damage already has been done to homes, business establishments, roads and highways. Toll may exceed that of 14 years ago when low-lying areas suffered considerable damage.

All areas have been hard hit. Saanich is faced with the most damage. Some roads in the municipality have been barricaded because of high water, and up to a late hour this morning over 200 reports had been received from marooned residents.

In the 12 hours ending at 7 this morning, 1.08 inches of rain, driven by a slashing 35 to 40-mile-an-hour wind, was recorded at Gonzales weather bureau.

There were perfect conditions for flooding. Fairly deep snow still was on the ground in outlying districts and the ground was frozen.

With the heavy rain came warmer temperatures (it was 43 degrees at Gonzales Observatory at 10.30 a.m.) and drains were not large enough to carry the heavy volume of water.

No relief is seen. The forecast is for continued rain, cloudy to night and tomorrow. The thermometer is expected to drop to 32 degrees freezing point tonight.

Home owners in all municipalities kept public works department crews on the jump, clearing drains and catch basins and digging clearance ditches.

Several home owners in Oak Bay said furniture in the rumpus rooms in the basements of their houses was floating.

Similar conditions were reported in the below-street floor of a city furniture store.

"The chesterfields are floating around," it was stated.

Pumps had to be put to work in the basement of a Yates Street theatre when rising water threatened to do much damage.

Roads Closed To Traffic

There was a wash-out on the Sooke-Jordan River Highway near the 17-Mile House, and several roads in Saanich were closed to traffic because water, two and three feet deep, covered them.

Blenkinsop Road, between Simón Street and Mount Douglas Cross Road, was among those barricaded.

Rithet's Hill on North Quadra Street near Royal Oak was a running river. Two to three inches of water was cascading down the highway.

There were similar conditions in many other districts.

Shelbourne Street was practically under water for nearly a mile and a half. Deep ditches on both sides of the low-lying road to Mount Douglas were overflowing.

Bowker Creek, one of the main drainage ditches for Saanich, the city and Oak Bay, overflowed its banks in several spots.

Some houses in the veterans' subdivision on the Braefoot Estate off Cedar Hill Cross Road had flooded basements. Lakes appeared in Marigold and Cloverdale. Another particularly bad

Ends Layoff For Loggers

The rain means the end of a prolonged cold spell accompanied by snow, which has prevented loggers from working in the woods since before Christmas.

In the Lake Cowichan area, some camps have been closed since the middle of November.

Reports from Shawnigan Lake, Duncan, Lake Cowichan, Nanaimo, Port Alberni and Campbell River all tell practically the same story—snow Tuesday evening followed by rains starting around midnight.

Main highways are all clear, though some "highways" were stalled on the Malahat when the snow turned to sleet and made roads icy and slushy.

Side roads, packed with snow for two months, are generally reported to be still ice-covered and treacherous.

There were no serious accidents reported to Provincial

Yoshida Cabinet Installed In Japan

TOKYO (AP)—Emperor Hirohito today formally installed Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida and his new cabinet.

The Yoshida cabinet is considered the strongest of the occupation.

The new government's first job is to implement increasingly strong U.S. demands for economic rehabilitation. To do that, Yoshida's dominant Democratic Liberal Party, which actually is Conservative, will have to repudiate many of its popular campaign promises.

No Change In U.S. Policy In Japan, Acheson States

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson said today policy of the U.S. on the occupation and defence of Japan is still the same and no change is planned.

He told a press conference the statement applied specifically to reports from Tokyo that: 1. American troops would be pulled out of Japan in the event of war, and 2. The United States considers Japan to be indefensible. The secretary declined to define U.S. official policy in precise terms, however. And he would not say, in response to questions, that withdrawal of troops in an emergency is not contemplated.

Acheson was asked to comment on a series of published reports from Tokyo saying U.S. policy had undergone a change as a result of Communist advances in China.

He said that as far as he knows, there is no basis for reports of a policy change and none is contemplated.

British Diplomat In Poland Shot By Armed Thugs

WARSAW, Poland (Reuters)—A. C. Maule, a secretary of the British Embassy here, today is in hospital with three bullet wounds. The shots were fired by men who broke into his home Tuesday night.

After an operation Maule was said to be "gravely ill." Two masked men broke into Maule's country house 15 miles south of Warsaw and demanded money. Maule rushed at the men, who fired three shots, wounding him in the stomach and shoulder.

After repeating their demand for money to Maule's wife the men fled without taking anything from the house.

Both British and Polish officials discounted the possibility that the attack was made with any purpose other than robbery. Telephone wires to Maule's home had been cut and his dog poisoned.

To Speak Thursday

Two government and two C.C.F. members are scheduled to take part in the Throne Speech debate Thursday afternoon. They are: A. C. Hope, Coalition; Delta; Sam Guthrie, C.C.F.; Cowichan—Newcastle; Cmdr. C. T. Beard, Coalition; Esquimalt; and E. F. Rowland, C.C.F., Omnica.

EDMONTON (CP)—Imperial Oil Ltd. officials today said the company plans to drill two new wells in the Redwater field, about 30 miles northeast of Edmonton.

The two new wells will be put down about half a mile and a mile from Imperial Redwater No. 1 where oil first was discovered in the field.

Acheson Insists U.S. Will Make Pact Effective

WASHINGTON (AP)—State Secretary Dean Acheson insisted today that the United States intends to make the proposed North Atlantic pact an effective security alliance.

He denied that the United States is backing away from its declared policy to do that.

At his press conference today, Acheson cited as a principal statement of American policy President Truman's inauguration speech of Jan. 20.

In that speech, Truman said the primary purpose of regional defence agreements under the United Nations charter "is to provide unmistakable proof of the joint determination of the free countries to resist armed attack from any quarter."

Acheson said he thinks the Senate's foreign policy leaders, Senators Tom Connally (Dem. Tex.) and Arthur Vandenberg (Rep. Mich.), and the State Department, all are seeking the same thing in the Atlantic Treaty project.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Stanley Thomas Beattie, 49, of Vancouver, was found dead today in his home after being overcome by gas. Police believe two jets of a gas plate were turned on accidentally.

Mines Deadline Near

CALGARY (CP)—More than 9,000 coal miners in Alberta and British Columbia were reported at work "as usual" today, less than 12 hours before their working agreement with mine owners is scheduled to expire.

There was no indication that the miners would strike when their contract with the Western Canada bituminous coal operators and domestic coal operators' association expires at midnight tonight.

PROMISING SELECTION

UNTIL VICTORIA'S MEMORIAL ARENA is completed, the problems of management and administration will remain in the academic realm. That there will be problems, however, no one doubts. For that reason selection of the personnel of the commission announced yesterday required more than ordinary care. The result is the choice of outstanding young men of high probity and accomplishment in the city's business and professional life. They will bring to their duties records of success in their particular fields which augur well for efficient operation of the structure on Blanshard Street.

Ex-Alderman Fred N. Cabell comes to the commission no stranger to many of the questions with which that body will be required to deal. As a former member of the council he has a background knowledge of the arena story which should equip him well to help in the solution of problems which arise. Mr. Richard C. Field, widely known in accountancy circles, is possessed of experience which should be of vital importance in financial matters that will enter into the administration of this expensive plant, a task for which Mr. D. N. W. Grubb, banker, and former athlete of distinction, also holds particular qualifications. Mr. W. Stanley Moore, one of Victoria's more prominent younger executives, rounds out a group about whose capabilities the citizens need have few misgivings.

These gentlemen, with Mr. William Eridgewood, whose term continues to June, are in a position to approach their duties under favorable auspices. They can have but one purpose, to run the arena as efficiently as possible for the city, and they should be given the fullest possible support in that objective.

SAD, SAD WORLD

THE STANDARD C.C.F. CRY, "LOOK out, depression ahead," has been voiced in the Legislature by Mr. John McInnis, the member for Prince George, and it will probably be heard intermittently throughout the session. Judging by its frequent use of the warning, the party that advocates socialism as the cure-all for the world's ills obviously rates it high as a vote-catcher. C.C.F. supporters like nothing better than to ascribe times of prosperity to an economic "fluke" and warn that the true nature of private enterprise will shortly bring on scarcity, unemployment and want. And presumably if a depression were to occur they would be overjoyed to be able to say "I told you so," and revel in the hardships of the populace as a means of guiding votes their way.

Unfortunately for the C.C.F. crepe-hangers the depression they have been preaching since the war days, nearly 10 years ago, has not come about, and there are no indications that it will. The end of the world conflict was predicted as the beginning of a widespread slump in industrial production. Instead, there has been an unprecedented demand for goods and a boom in output. The cataclysm was postponed a while; 1948 was going to be the year of the big crash. Now Mr. McInnis has set the date for some time in the nebulous future; he apparently hesitates to become too definite.

Our present good times, he avers, are only the result of the recent war. But it was an unfortunate slip that, in the same speech before the House, the member for Prince George opined that the reason tremendous investments are being made in British Columbia by local and outside interests is not because of the government's efforts but merely because our province's resources are so great. Might that not also be the reason, Mr. McInnis—along with the fact that we are willing to work to develop those resources—that we are getting along fine without the need for bureaucratic socialist supervision?

BITING THE HAND

NOT ALL MEMBERS OF AUDIENCES which have crowded Victoria halls to hear Dr. Anna Louise Strong have agreed with the views she has expressed. Her ardent support of Russia and the Russian system since the revolution would doubtless be less acceptable to many today than it was when she sought to enlist help for the people whose cause she championed. But whatever the attitude of the listener in this city, there could be no doubt on the score of her sincerity.

Hence the amazement of many of our people to learn that Dr. Strong has been arrested in Russia as a "well-known intelligence operator" and is to be deported by the country she befriended. We hazard no guess as to the internal machinations in the Kremlin which may have prompted this development. But, on purely human grounds, we are moved to wonder if this is the Communist way of saying, "Well done, good and faithful servant." Dr. Strong's explanation when she moves from behind the "Iron Curtain" should be illuminating.

TRAFFIC EDUCATION

WHAT POSITION THE ELECTED representatives will take on the recommendation of retiring Police Chief J. A. McLellan that a separate traffic department be set up for this city, remains to be seen as discussions disclose its advantages. Similarly the installation of a baker's dozen of new traffic lights at certain locations will doubtless await further study before the work is approved. But on one point of his report to the Police Commission this week, the chief is entitled to expect a large measure of praise. That section deals with the safety education now being conducted among our younger people.

In the schools the new generation is being given practical instruction in the avoidance of traffic hazards and is being taught to understand and respect the regulations which are laid down to safeguard the public. Occasionally instances occur in which a too zealous young patrol officer may take himself too seriously, and once in a while some carelessness creeps in to direction of oncoming vehicles. But these are the exceptions. They serve only to emphasize the general value of the training that is being given.

It is, moreover, highly suitable that the instruction should be furnished in conjunction with other work at the schools. In this age of fast motor travel, children cannot acquire an education for living until they know how to remain alive against the perils of the road. Conversely, they can attain a satisfactory social consciousness only when they have achieved a recognition of the responsibilities that will fall to them when legally empowered to assume control of a car.

MEASUREMENT OF IDEALS

THE NATION-WIDE APPEAL FOR funds for the Canadian Red Cross which will open on Feb. 28 will bring citizens of this country—and this city—face to face with a need and an obligation that cannot be denied. Of all the agencies for material human betterment none has a more admirable record than the Red Cross. In large city and small outpost, in peace and in war, this organization has set an example of conduct and a standard of achievement that earn universal respect. Yet its work is not represented merely by the sum of the efforts of those who are actively engaged in its programs, great as this contribution may be. It is gauged as well by the manner in which the individual men, women and children of Canada and other countries support it with voluntary gifts.

Such financial contributions are as much a measure of the degree to which a nation believes in the ideal of public service which lies at the basis of Red Cross work as they are of the extent of the activities themselves which the organization will thereby be permitted to carry on. The Canadian objective for the forthcoming campaign is $5,000,000, of which British Columbia will be asked to raise $500,000. When the call is sent out in this city, give generously. Your contribution will be a direct answer to the cry of needy humanity.

JUST PLAIN SILLY

POLICE COMMISSIONER BURGESS J. Gadsden sought to bar the press from an impending special meeting of the City Police Commission. Mayor George and Commissioner James Neeley overruled the fantastic idea of the former alderman.

Mr. Gadsden intimated that one might have nothing to hide, but some person or persons might want to say something he, she, or they did not want published. This kind of argument sounds like Commissioner Gadsden. But, incidentally, nothing worth publishing should be left unsaid at any meeting of elected representatives of the people.

Let us hear no more of such nonsense as trying to bar the press from meetings of the Police Commission. Our hat goes off to the Mayor and Commissioner Neeley for squelching Commissioner Gadsden.

IN DAYS OF YORE

IT WOULD BE INTERESTING, AND perhaps a trifle saddening, to trace the eventual use of the lumber that now is being piled up as a result of the dismantling of the old Willows grandstand. The weathered boards, still in good condition, that periodically supported thousands of Victorians and visitors, have survived both the convulsive shock of crowds leaping to their feet with the cry of "They're off!" and the heavy trampling as excited watchers inspired their choices down the home stretch. What tumultuous echoes had sounded from the high back screen—the cheers, the whistles, the joyfully screamed tributes and the plaintive reproaches. What little personal dramas had been enacted on the benches—the modest win of the tyro better, the heart-stopping jackpot-of-the-plunger, the even more frequent losses in both categories.

And now all these are things of the past. The boards that housed triumph and defeat will provide lumber for more prosaic purposes—homes, perhaps, or shops, fences, garages; and many a man or woman concerned with the more material aspects of life will say, "and about time too." But on some warm autumn afternoon of the future, when the leaves are turning and the turf is firm, and a man on a horse is a picture of light and air, may one not place an ear close to the old timbers in their new role and hear from their fibres a faint far echo of sounds and music that are gone. They say that walls have ears—and maybe some have voices.

Finding servants might be easier if they were called household employees instead of menials.

Acheson—Plain Talk

By PETER EDSON, from Washington

OLD JOE STALIN will apparently meet his match in Dean Acheson. The new U.S. Secretary of State's calm reply to Joe's gobbledygook about being willing to discuss the possibilities of issuing a declaration in favor of peace was about as devastating as anything could be. It is Joe's move, now, and there isn't much he can do from here on in but put up or shut up.

Secretary Acheson was as cool as that cucumber as he walked down the aisle of the State Department's little auditorium for the weekly press conference at which he made this reply to Stalin's answers on correspondent Kingsbury Smith's tricky and hypothetical questions. Acheson was a few minutes late. He had on a natty brown gabardine suit and a harmonizing brown tie and tan shoes. His heavy mustachios and eyebrows pointed upward, but not in anger. He was smiling pleasantly.

THERE WERE OVER a hundred reporters in this tiny theatre. In the back seats were a number of Acheson's staff assistants. Everybody had been tipped off that the secretary would comment on the latest Russian dodge in its misbegotten "peace offensive."

The secretary sat down in an armchair behind a small walnut table below and in front of the blue-curtained stage. He spread a few papers in front of him. Then, without waiting for questions, he got down to business.

Acheson did not read except when he quoted correspondent Smith's questions, Stalin's replies, the United Nations' Charter or previous statements by Secretary Marshall. But the new secretary knew just what he wanted to say and he said it in words that nobody—not even the Russians—could possibly misunderstand or miss.

WHAT ACHESON DID was to lay on the line what his U.S. policy will be in dealing with the Russians. Three points stand out:

1. The interests of the United States and the hopes of hundreds of millions of people throughout the world for peace are so fundamental that this issue cannot be tampered with as a pawn in any international political maneuver by the Russians.

2. Furthermore, the secretary cited chapter and verse of the United Nations' Charter to prove that the Russians have not lived up to their obligations to settle disputes by peaceful means, refraining from the use of force.

3. Finally, leaving the door open for future bona fide negotiations made through legitimate channels of diplomatic communication, the secretary made clear that the United States has always thought all questions capable of solution if the Russians had any real desire to settle them.

Acheson's voice was perfectly calm as he made his somewhat long statement.

THE ABILITY to make clear policy statements off the cuff is what the State Department boys call good "drafting." It is the ability to talk diplomatic lingo in such a way that there is precise meaning that cannot possibly be misinterpreted. Good drafting cannot be done by an inexperienced diplomat.

Acheson makes his statements without any of the double talk that protocol officers use in their communiques when they say nothing, or say one thing and mean another. Stalin's answers were a masterpiece of this kind. Acheson called them "a triumph of caution."

If this is to be the new look in the State Department, it is a good look and worth preserving. It gives some indication that the new secretary of state does not intend to let Russian propaganda bluffs go unanswered. If the rest of the Truman administration is smart enough to ride on the record of the Acheson statements, and not try to amplify them, much good could come of it.

DEAN ACHESON takes over as U.S. secretary of state better prepared for the job than almost anyone who ever held it. A possible exception would be John Quincy Adams, who had been secretary to his father in several early American embassies in Europe and had himself served as U.S. ambassador to Russia.

Acheson has had no comparable experiences overseas. But he first came into the State Department eight years ago and he served as an assistant to four secretaries. He handled economic affairs under Hull, congressional liaison under Stettinius, and was undersecretary to Byrnes and Marshall.

Voice At The Curb

U.K. Information Office

THE FIRST TALKING traffic light signal, developed entirely in the United Kingdom, was demonstrated at Hayes, England, the other day. It is an automatic device, operating independently or in conjunction with traffic lights, which gives spoken warnings to pedestrians at road crossings. One typical message given at the demonstration was "Before crossing look right, look left, look right again. Thank you." The apparatus in its compact waterproof housing weighs approximately 30 pounds and is contained in a box fixed to the top of the signal post. It can operate either alone, with a timing device, or synchronized with a normal traffic signal. The new signal does not shout its instructions. It quietly coaxes people across the road or warns them of the need for looking left and right before stepping off the curb.

Stop The Music!

GLOBAL SURVEY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press News Analyst

THE LONDON DAILY MAIL—one of the world's prominent newspapers—says the line-up between eastern and western Europe is hardening. It asks whether an explosion therefore is inevitable.

Answering its own question, the Mail thinks an upheaval isn't inevitable. But it declares that the peaceful countries will muddle into a third world war unless they make themselves strong enough to be unassailable.

It is, of course, apparent that the line-up of the two blocs is hardening. The western powers are openly discussing a powerful North Atlantic alliance, and are otherwise consolidating their positions.

On the Soviet side there is no disposition to advertise. However, the German press reports—though without confirmation—that the Russians are conducting extensive troop movements in their zone of Germany and are staging combined air and submarine manoeuvres in the western Baltic.

REMARKABLE HASTE

The Neue Zeitung, official German paper of the United States military government, also says it learns from refugee Balts that the Russians are constructing huge new military installations in the Baltic republics with "remarkable haste."

These are but a few of the numerous operations—political, economic, military—being carried out by both sides. The situation is explosive.

However, the consensus of close observers is that war isn't inevitable. Obviously it could develop—but not necessarily.

The preparations being made by both sides strike me as being in large degree precautionary. The west is fearful of an assault by the Communist bloc, but I'll bet that Moscow also is scared.

NO ONE READY

Actually there is no country prepared to wage war today. The United States is in a much better position than any other, but even she isn't set for action. Therefore it would take an ugly development indeed to set the chariots of war rolling.

Probably the German situation, with the country divided into two hostile camps, is the most explosive problem. But even there it long has been apparent that both sides have been exercising caution to make sure the pot didn't boil over.

There is one contingency which, as I see it, must produce war, and I have mentioned it in a previous column. The Communists have announced openly that they are out to destroy the "capitalistic governments." Should Communism succeed in overwhelming all of western Europe to the English Channel, then an armed clash must be expected between the remaining western powers and the Reds.

But western Europe isn't deteriorating. On the contrary, things are improving. Therefore we should be unduly pessimistic to expect a collapse.

'MITCH' OR JUKE BOX?

T. D. F. in the Ottawa Citizen
St. Thomas Times-Journal would like to see Mitch Hepburn named to the Senate. It would jazz things up, all right, but why not install a "juke" instead? When tired of that, they could turn it off.

Law--Defiance Or Obedience

By JOSEPH L. RUTLEDGE

THE town of Pembroke on the Ottawa River promises to be the scene of a cause celebre unless the government or a local merchant lose their nerve.

NOT FIRST OFFENCE

George Simpson, local jeweler, opening a new store, announced in placards in his windows "No 25 per cent luxury tax on these goods." It wasn't a first offence. He had been accused and found guilty of a previous omission of making returns and paying the tax. And he had paid the fine imposed.

In speaking in his own defence, however, he had said: "I object to being a tax collector for the federal government. . . I question the constitutionality of this law that says I must work for nothing. I am going to take this to a higher court. The department is acting contrary to the Bible. I have broken no law which is in harmony with our constitution."

Whether Mr. Simpson can sustain his challenge remains to be seen. His right of challenge cannot be questioned. One may wonder, perhaps, whether the particular instance is worth an outright defiance of the law, or whether equal results desired might not be achieved by less radical means. But, where a man is ready to accept the consequences of failure, his right remains to defy a law with which his conscience cannot agree.

RIGHT TO RESIST

"All men," said Thoreau, "recognize the right of revolution; that is, the right to refuse allegiance to, and to resist the government, when its tyranny or inefficiency are great and unendurable."

The Barons at Runnymede established that right and built it into Magna Carta. Simon De Montfort challenged the existing law and created the first parliamentary government. John Hampden defied the king. The American colonists defied, by revolution, the right of men to be parties to their own taxation.

But there is another phase of this issue that, friendly as we might be to Mr. Simpson's general thesis, we think is equally important.

LAW DEFIED

The government has passed a law. The law has been defied. The obligation rests upon the government to defend its law, if it is defensible or, if it is not, to abrogate the law. To do less than that, to let even one man challenge the justice of a law, and not to account to that challenge, is to bring all law into disrepute. Bad laws should be repealed, not defied.

LOWERED CURTAIN

Poland did announce acceptance of the plan. Czechoslovakia asked to send an observer to the first discussion meeting in Paris. Then Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov walked out of his conference with the British and French foreign ministers. He charged that the Marshall Plan would usurp the sovereignty of small nations. That act really rang down the iron curtain.

Poland and Czechoslovakia had to withdraw their approval. Then Russia widened the political and economic breach further by such acts as closing practically all of the Danube to traffic with the west. Now the Soviets say that the U.S., Britain and western Europe are "boycotting trade relations with the countries of the people's democracy and the U.S.S.R."

That is the excuse given for forming the Council of Mutual Economic Assistance, made up of Russia, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary and Bulgaria. The disident Tito of Yugoslavia is out. The council's aim is "broader co-operation" through the exchange of economic and technical experience and of such things as raw materials, foodstuffs, machinery and equipment.

QUITE DIFFERENT

This is something quite different from the Marshall Plan, though its originators would have the world think otherwise.

sequences of failure, his right remains to defy a law with which his conscience cannot agree.

CHANCE TO PERFORM

Windsor Star

Because the majority in Newfoundland in favor of federation was small, Canadian politicians need be all the more careful lest they aggravate still sore wounds; lest they give encouragement to those elements in Newfoundland who are opposed to federation and who might not be averse to federation becoming unpopular.

The Fathers of Confederation were great because they had the large vision which enabled them to co-operate and overcome immediate obstacles. Canadians, we believe, will expect the modern counterparts to be similarly statesmanlike in the federation of Canada and Newfoundland.

WHAT HE PLEASES

Winnipeg Free Press

The degree to which public taste compels the most gifted and wayward of artists to conform, is aptly illustrated in a brief interview given the other day at San Francisco by Mr. Somerset Maugham, the novelist. Mr. Maugham is now an old man. He said:

"I have finished writing novels. From here on I am going to be an essayist. Most of my life I have written what people want to read. Now I am going to write what I please."

POTENTIALITIES ARE THERE

London (Ont.) Free Press

The atom bomb is the most startling and portentous achievement of science. It is at once a warning and a hope. The potential destructiveness of such a weapon is a warning as to the danger which science can bring to a human race not yet sufficiently mature to understand about it. The hope is that if such destructive power is possible it should be possible to bring similar miracles to the service of peace. But so far we are more interested in blowing one another up than in helping build one another up.

PARDON ME

The Times of London

It is the season of coughs—tearing, aching, whooping, barking, suffocating; and they are to be heard on all sides, in infinite variety. There is no doubt that of all human ailments the cough is the one that inflicts the greatest immediate annoyance on the greatest number. It is almost impossible for the cough to be a secret sorrow. The dictionary proclaims that to cough is "to expel the air from the lungs with a more or less violent effort and characteristic noise, produced by the abrupt forcible opening of the previously closed glottis." But this is only touching the fringe of an immense subject, which deserves a place in social history from prehistoric times—in fact ever since man has had a glottis. Whether they are clad in leopard skins, chain mail, or knee breeches and silk stockings, men have always been divided into coughers and non-coughers. To those who are not themselves afflicted it seems so easy to refrain from coughing. Surely, we think in the railway carriage or concert hall, he could stop it. If he really tried; he appears to be making no effort. Even when the victim's conscientious efforts have made him blue in the face, he still seems a nuisance rather than an object of pity.

Seek Reduction In Delivery License Rates In Saanich

A four-man delegation headed by H. R. Stephen will interview the Saanich license inspector with regard to the new by-law passed recently, raising the fee on delivery trucks in the municipality.

Decision was reached at a meeting of the retail merchants' group of the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon. Others on the delegation include Walter Jeune, J. P. Land and R. M. B. Crawford.

Formerly the set rate of $10 per annum was charged to truck companies, regardless of the number of vehicles, but a recent by-law was passed, raising the fee to $20 per truck per year.

Mr. Jeune and Walter Walker suggested that a delegation be appointed or a letter drafted and sent and a report brought back to the next meeting of the Retail Merchant's group.

Mr. Stephen will draw up a brief to present to the license inspector in Saanich when the chosen delegation attempts to apply for a change in the tax.

Three Moffats Quit Old Stove Company

TORONTO (CP)—Withdrawal of three leading shareholders from the large industrial family firm of Moffats Ltd., stove manufacturers, was disclosed here Tuesday night.

Little more than two weeks after the death of the firm's vice-president, Frederick W. Moffat, the sale marks the first split in the family ownership since its founding in 1869. C. L. Moffat, J. M. Moffat and B. V. Moffat sold approximately 45 per cent of the stock to a holding company for a sum reported to be just under $1,000,000. The transaction was on a cash basis.

C. L. Moffat, announcing the sale, said he and his cousins would remain in the industry, possibly in competition with the old firm.

Hospital Employees Receive $17 Bonus

VANCOUVER (CP)—A cost-of-living bonus of $17 a month has been allowed more than 1,000 Vancouver General Hospital employees, including 250 nurses.

The bonus is included in terms of a one-year agreement signed between officials of the Hospital Employees' Union (A.F.L.-T.L.C.) and the hospital board of directors.

William Black, the union's business agent, said Tuesday, however, conciliation will be sought for more than 50 Chilliwack Hospital employees seeking a $30 monthly pay boost.

Eagles To Reward Long-Time Members

Fraternal Order of Eagles' Home on View Street will be the scene of Veterans' Night this evening when all members who have been with the organization 20 years or more will receive special veterans' pins from the Grand Aerie. Those who have been with the Eagles for 30 years or more will get certificates.

There will also be a presentation of cups to last year's officers who were runners-up in the Grand Aerie national ritualistic contest. A show has been arranged for the occasion by the concert party and the Eagles' clown band.

Margarine Debate

WINNIPEG (CP)—Butter and margarine held the attention of the Manitoba Legislature for 80 minutes Tuesday before debate on a resolution sponsored by Edmond Prefontaine, L.P., Carleton, was adjourned.

Mr. Prefontaine's resolution asks legislation to regulate the sale of margarine in Manitoba and prohibit its coloring so as to resemble butter.

The consumer should have the right to buy margarine, but coloring it to resemble butter would destroy to a certain degree a major industry and "leave the road open to fraud and deception of the consumer," he said.

Canadian Collieries May Produce Steel On Island

If suitable deposits of ore are found, it is reported Canadian Collieries Limited may build an electric furnace for steel production at its Union Bay plant.

The report says Vancouver Island Coals Limited will spend between $20,000 and $25,000 on exploratory work when the weather improves.

E. E. Fielding, Toronto, found a new taste treat in the recipe below. He wrote: "My first taste of Fricatelli proved to be a pleasant surprise. Served piping hot it is a flavourful winter meal, complete in itself."

Heinz wanted to know what recipes appeal to men. Several housewives were asked to serve dishes out of the booklet "57 Ways to Use Heinz Soups." A typical verdict is given above.

Fricatelli

Arrange 3 cups cooked rice and 1 lb. sausage meat, browned and drained, in alternate layers in a greased casserole. Sprinkle each layer with finely chopped onion. Pour in 1 10-oz. tin of Heinz Condensed Cream of Tomato Soup, undiluted and sprinkle top with 2 tablespoons grated cheese. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375°F.) for 30 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.

Says Development Program Leaf From Book Of C.C.F.

The C.C.F. contended in the Legislature Tuesday that most of the expansion program announced by Premier Byron Johnson last week was the direct result of the opposition's continued pressure and growth.

It was Herbert Gargrave, whip of the C.C.F. opposition and member for the coastal Mackenzie riding, who argued this claim in replying to the Speech from the Throne.

He repeated it frequently through a speech in which he warned the government it was doomed to failure, that the people of the province were dubious about the Premier's promises in his policy speech which Mr. Gargrave described as "political bribes."

Mr. Johnson was quick to object to the expression, stating he thought Mr. Gargrave was "going a little beyond what I believe are parliamentary ethics." "You can think what you want," replied the opposition whip. "But I can consider your promises political bribes if I want. This is an election year, you know. I'd like to think that they aren't."

NOT P.G.E. ANSWER

Mr. Gargrave did not think plans for extending the P.G.E. to Prince George and construction of a highway link from Vancouver to its Squamish terminus would bring the operation of the government-owned railway "out of the red."

Transshipping of freight by highway was costly, he warned, and he thought the time was not far away when the question of bringing the railway into Vancouver would have to be discussed.

The opposition whip agreed that the announced plans would be an improvement if carried out.

Mr. Gargrave followed up the charges of his colleague, John McInnis, Fort St. George, in the House Monday, that building contractors had been paid $200,000 compensation without authorization, on contracts they were unable to fulfill because of increased costs.

Attorney-General Gordon S. Wismer, absent from the House Monday when the question was first aired, assured Mr. Gargrave.

Start Political Action

TORONTO (CP)—A step towards putting trade unionists affiliated with the American Federation of Labor into politics in support of the C.C.F. was taken Monday by sponsors of an A.F.L. political action group. The sponsors sent out letters to 40 A.F.L. men, suggesting an organizational meeting. "In the past, A.F.L. affiliated unions in Canada have avoided political entanglements."

grave payment of the money was within the constitutional powers of the government.

"I don't want the impression to go abroad that something illegal was done. The matter will be dealt with more fully at a later date," he promised.

Charges Sales Tax Unnecessary, Exploiting Family

The government was taken to task in the Legislature Tuesday by one of two women members sitting on its side of the House, Mrs. Tillie Rolston, who said she was "viciously opposed" to the 3 per cent retail sales tax.

"I find that although the province seemed to be almost on the verge of bankruptcy when the tax was brought into effect, and that it was necessary to ensure our solvency, most municipalities could have lived without it," said the member for Vancouver-Point Grey.

She charged that in many cases the tax amounts to a 6 per cent levy rather than 3 per cent, and that it is "exploiting the family."

'INFAMOUS TAX'

"It is an infamous tax," Mrs. Rolston asserted.

She was glad to hear in the Speech from the Throne of new industries which were going to locate in British Columbia, but she hoped that natural resources, like fishing, would not be damaged, and that the natural beauty of the province would not be marred.

Mrs. Rolston said she could not miss the opportunity "of striking against the lurid stuff that is allowed to come into our country under the guise of comics and thrillers for children."

She said women's organizations have been protesting for eight years the entrance of "this trash" into Canada "but we are turned from pillar to post."

She hoped something would be done to protect the children from themselves, that their reading will be directed at least into safe channels until they are older.

RIGHT STEP

The Point Grey member thought the hospitalization insurance scheme was a step in the right direction.

"But I think, perhaps, if we had waited and ironed out a few more of the rough spots before making it law, it might have been better," she said.

Mrs. Rolston wondered why the government hesitated to lift the ban on sale of margarine when so many housewives have demanded the opportunity to buy the butter substitute.

She said she had noticed that another liquor store had been opened in Vancouver without approval of the Legislature.

"Yet pressure has been exerted in no uncertain terms for margarine, but the question has been left for the Legislature," she said.

ENTHUSIASM GONE

Mrs. Rolston jibed Opposition Leader Harold Winch with the question: "Where, oh where, is his enthusiasm and turbulence of yesterday?"

Referring to his reply to the Speech from the Throne, she said it was the most liberal socialist speech she'd ever heard. "Perhaps he is going sour on socialism—I wouldn't blame him if he were. It's not going so well in various countries."

Mrs. Rolston said the high cost of automobile insurance was a problem "we must wrestle with in the near future."

"At present the careful driver is penalized by having to pay the same rate as the careless driver," she said. "The insurance companies should evolve some plan to compensate the careful driver with a lower rate."

Home Nursing Until Beds Made Available

While there is a shortage of hospital beds in the province, could not a form of home nursing service be instituted, Mrs. Tillie Rolston, Coalition member for Vancouver-Point Grey, asked in the Legislature Tuesday.

She said she had a resolution from a Vancouver club asking that provision for home nursing care be made in the Hospital Insurance Act.

The equivalent of public hospital ward service charges could be applied in cases where attending physicians thought the home service was necessary, Mrs. Rolston said.

Government Duty To Build Hospitals, Says C.C.F. Whip

It was the duty of the government to undertake a hospital building program, Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. member for Mackenzie, said in the Legislature Tuesday.

"It is a duty upon any government that takes millions of dollars in premiums for services which are extremely difficult to obtain," he said.

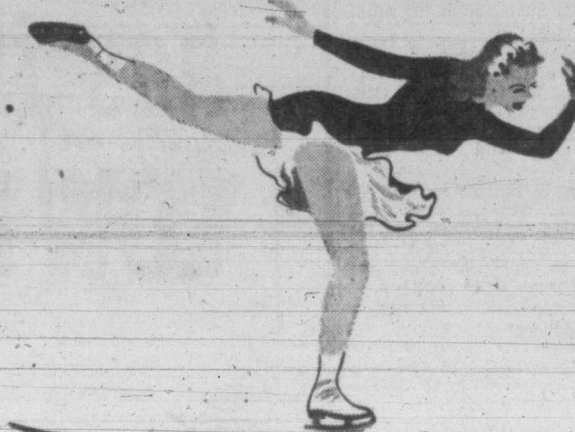

He said a hospital building program would have been under way now if the Coalition government had planned ahead and had real foresight "instead of desperately adopting a C.C.F. proposal, Hospital Insurance, before being properly prepared."

OFFSET PUBLICITY

He charged that the hospital insurance scheme was put into effect mainly to offset unfavorable publicity aroused through imposition of the sales tax.

"The shortage of beds in hospitals is almost criminal and in some cases the government is almost guilty of taking money under false pretenses because of difficulty in obtaining admission to hospitals," he said.

Some people will say . . .
"It's as smooth as a skater's glide!"

Says North Development Answer To Problems Of Lower Mainland

W. D. Smith, Coalition member of the Legislature for the northern Atlin riding, said in the house Tuesday he thought the southern B.C. mainland was showing signs of ill health.

"Vancouver and the Fraser Valley are bursting at the seams. So many are settling there that problems are being created which cannot be solved without development in the rest of the province," he said.

He was glad to see in Premier Byron Johnson's policy speech plans for expansion northward which he said was the key to B.C.'s greatness.

"Too many look jealously on an expenditure for the north, but Vancouver can rejoice that development in our territory will proceed, for as the north develops so will Vancouver," Mr. Smith said.

HIGHWAY LINK
He pleaded for action on the building of a highway link between Atlin to the Alaska Highway.

He said the provincial government had indicated willingness to assume a share of the cost of the road, but about half of it, 31 miles, would be in Yukon territory, and that was the Dominion's responsibility.

"I ask this government to use all the influence it has with the Dominion government to obtain assurances that construction of this road will be started this spring," the Atlin member said.

FEARS GHOST TOWN

He said economic conditions in the Portland Canal area demand that some specific action be taken by the government immediately or Stewart will become a ghost town.

Since the close of the Silbak Premier Mine the population of this area had been declining rapidly, Mr. Smith said.

The area north of Stewart, he continued, was heavily mineralized and could be developed if a new road, seven or eight miles in length, was constructed.

Mr. Smith said it would mean employment for at least 250 men.

POPULATION DOWN

He said Atlin constituency was the only riding in the province which had decreased in population since the last election. The reduction was from approximately 1,200 to about 900.

"This should show the great need for assistance to mining development at the present time," he said.

Follow The Birds Slogan Upheld

Mrs. Tillie Rolston, Coalition member of the Legislature for Vancouver-Point Grey, is worried about a decline in B.C.'s tourist trade industry, and she thinks advertising might have some bearing on the question.

"Perhaps truthfulness in advertising is important," she said, using the "Follow the Birds to Victoria" slogan as an example.

of the type of advertising, she thought was out of line.

"Do you think they'll follow the birds to Victoria in this weather?" she asked.

"Well they certainly won't follow them to Vancouver," was the quick reply of Mrs. Nancy Hodges, the Victoria woman member.

Mrs. Rolston had no come-back.

More Opposition Daylight Saving

More opposition to daylight saving was voiced in the Legislature Tuesday.

W. D. Smith, Coalition member for Atlin, said fast time is useless and is a nuisance in the northern part of the province.

He said most of his riding lies behind the Alaska panhandle which means that in traveling to the northern parts of the riding, keeping track of the time becomes "a hopeless muddle."

"Alaska is not foolish enough to have daylight saving," he said.

He thought that it would be good idea for a plebiscite to be taken on the question at the coming election.

The DOCTOR Says:

VITAMIN D HELPS PREVENT MANY DISEASES IN CHILDREN

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Children must have vitamin D to prevent the development of a disease called rickets. This disease causes a softening of the bones with such signs as bowing of the legs and pulling in of the ribs. Vitamin D also is important in a disease of infants called infantile tetany in which the muscles go into spasm, and for a disease with general softening of the bone.

Vitamin D in sufficient quantities prevents the development of these diseases and can be used to treat them. In winter when the sun exposure is slight, vitamin D can be supplied by the diet or by taking preparations which contain sufficient quantities of this vitamin.

OTHER USES
Preparations containing vitamin D have been used for many other conditions besides those mentioned, such as arthritis, allergy, and a skin disease called psoriasis. However, the value of vitamin D for disorders such as these has not been accepted by authoritative medical bodies as yet.

One of the best sources of vitamin D is the fish liver oils, of which cod liver oil is the best known example. Children at first may not like to take cod liver oil, but if they are given it early enough they usually learn to accept it. It may be given with other substances to help conceal the taste. Older children and adults, of course, can take cod liver oil or other vitamin D preparation in capsules, so that question of unpleasant taste is unimportant.

Taken in ordinary quantities vitamin D is perfectly safe. Tremendous doses have been re-

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Putnam are visitors in Victoria from Creston, B.C., the guests of Mr. Putnam's parents, Hon. Frank Putnam, Minister of Agriculture, and Mrs. Putnam.

Mrs. O. K. Harte left on the afternoon boat for Vancouver, en route to Toronto where she will make her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. D. Gaitskill. She was accompanied to the mainland city by her nephew, Capt. W. D. Smith.

Miss Araby Lockhart, who for the past few days has visited her uncle and aunt, Brigadier and Mrs. J. Sutherland Brown, 1931 Bowker Place, left on the noon boat today for the mainland to rejoin the cast of "The Drunkard," which has been touring Canada and recently played in Vancouver.

Canadian Pacific Ladies' Lawn Bowling Club, 500 card party, club rooms, Belleville Street, Wednesday at 8 p.m. . . . Island Arts and Crafts Society, monthly meeting, Friday at 8 p.m., club rooms, corner Cook and Fort Streets. Speaker, John Kyle; subject, his trip through England and Scotland.

Child Adoption Principles Named

Dr. Charlotte Whitton, seated, second from left, former executive director of Canadian Welfare Council, was guest speaker at the meeting of Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon. Pictured with her, left to right, are Mrs. H. L. Smith, Mrs. W. H. Wilson and Mrs. Duncan MacBride, president, first vice-president and secretary of the club.

Using the expose of child adoption practices in Alberta as a background, Dr. Charlotte Whitton told members of the Women's Canadian Club, yesterday afternoon, in the Crystal Ballroom at the Empress Hotel, that four principles should govern child adoption practices.

These, she said, are that the child should be considered a unit in a continuing society; that guidance must be established for care of the child; that proper guardianship should be found for children up to 21 and that legislation should see such guardianship work for the child's benefit.

In speaking of the procedure for adoption of children across Canada, Dr. Whitton paid high tribute to the structure in this province.

"British Columbia," she said, "has the highest standard in home placing and in adoption in the Dominion."

"That is because your children's aid societies are responsible for the neglected children and see that the parents of an adopted child are doing their work well.

"Your social workers do every thing to make guardianship safe—for safety of the child and for the community is their responsibility."

At the next meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, on March 1, at 2.45 p.m., the Lux pageant, showing the history of women's fashions during the last 500 years will be featured.

ACCESSORY SHOP IN STRATHCONA

What promises to become a favorite haunt of tourists and local smart women alike, opens tomorrow in the lobby of the Strathcona Hotel. The Shamrock Shop, under the ownership of Mrs. Patricia Frumento, carries a moderately priced line of blouses, lingerie, sweaters, hostery and millinery; also a limited number of collectors' items in Danish figurines and ornaments. The shop is artistically laid out, cream moire drapes back the pretty display windows, slender boxes of trailing plants hang above the mirrored counter, and chintz-covered easy chairs invite customers to relax and shop leisurely.

Y.W.C.A. Directors Board Holds Annual Dinner Meeting

That in the near future the Y.W.C.A. may have a gymnasium and swimming pool as part of their equipment, was stressed by Dr. Olga Jardine in her presidential report, last evening at the annual meeting and dinner of the board of directors of the Victoria Y.W.C.A. in the Y.W.C.A. dining room.

Dr. Jardine said that it is "thrilling to note the very full and excellent use made of the facilities in all departments of the organization which is concerned in the development of Christian character and leadership and where activities are open to women and girls of every race, creed and nationality."

Sincere thanks are due to the provincial government, Victoria City Council and Community

Chest for their financial aid, she continued.

Special tribute was paid to Miss Christine Gardiner for her splendid work during the year and to volunteers and staff who have worked so harmoniously together.

Seated at the head table which was attractively decorated with an arrangement of tulips, daffodils and plum blossom were the guests of honor, Mayor and Mrs. P. E. George, E. G. Rowbottom, Walter Jeanne, Mrs. C. B. Conway, Mrs. F. A. Lindsay, Mrs. W. G. Hamilton, Mrs. J. Baxter, Dr. O. Jardine, Mrs. D. McBride, Mr. and Mrs. D. Decker, Mr. A. Raymur and Miss Christine Gardiner.

Greetings from the Victoria City Council were conveyed to the meeting by Mayor Percy George. Mrs. W. G. Hamilton read a message of greeting from the Vancouver Y.W.C.A.

Miss Christine Gardiner opened the meeting with worship service. House and dining-room report was given by Mrs. H. B. Howard who noted that extensive alterations and improvements had been carried out in the kitchen.

Miss Gardiner, executive director, expressed appreciation of the splendid work of volunteers and staff in making the Y.W.C.A. a home away from home for girls and women.

Other reports were given by Mrs. H. B. Conway, treasurer; program committee report by Mrs. D. W. McDuffee; interclub council report, Miss Marion McCulloch; travelers aid, Miss E. M. Bruce, and B.C. extension work by Mrs. J. Baxter.

Miss I. Bescoby gave a very interesting talk on work being accomplished in welcoming European women who are coming from displaced persons camps to make a new home in Victoria. Miss Valentine Reber, one of these girls, who came to Victoria recently, spoke charmingly of what the Y.W.C.A. means to displaced persons.

Miss Gail Keyworth gave a short talk on H. I. Y. work. During the evening piano and vocal solos were given by Miss Eileen Graham and Miss Dorothy Mae Charles.

Victoria Interest In Chapel Wedding Today

At high noon today in the chapel of St. Andrew's Wesley Church in Vancouver, Rev. O. W. S. McCall, D.D., officiated at a wedding of interest in Victoria and on the mainland.

Principals were Mrs. Harry M. Spedding of Vancouver and Robert William Watson of this city. Mrs. C. D. J. Christie was in attendance on her sister, and Matthew Watson of Vancouver, groomsmen for his brother.

A wedding breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Christie followed the ceremony.

For her marriage, today's bride wore a distinctive tailored wool ensemble in Mexican tile shade, its rich color given dark contrast by deep cavalier blue for all accessories. En tone with the suit, was her orchid corsage bouquet.

Following their wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Watson will be at home after March 15, at 2808 Thompson Avenue.

Dinner Party Will Honor Gifted Song Composer

Dr. Howard G. Coulthard will be a dinner host at the Empress Hotel tonight to honor his niece, Mrs. Jean Coulthard Adams, and her sister, Mrs. David Brock, who arrived from Vancouver this morning.

A Canadian composer of note, Mrs. Adams will be present this evening at the Victoria Musical Arts Society concert when guest soloist Frances James presents a group of her songs.

The talented composer, who has studied in eastern Canada and in New York, has had a symphony on French-Canadian pieces performed in Toronto and Montreal under the baton of Sir Ernest MacMillan and ballads for piano, violin and other orchestral pieces presented in the Malkin Bowl in Vancouver. Her ballet, "The Sea Gull," and her songs have been presented both in the United States and eastern Canada. She has also won awards in competitions sponsored by the Composers', Authors' and Publishers' Association of Canada for Canada.

JEAN COULTHARD ADAMS

At present Mrs. Adams is a member of the faculty at University of British Columbia.

Gary Cooper Stars With Ann Sheridan

"Good Sam," which opens today at the Royal Theatre, deserves to rank high amongst the producer-director's notable screen achievements. A delightful comedy of family life, this Rainbow Production for RKO Radio release stars Gary Cooper and Ann Sheridan.

The story centres upon Sam

Clayton, his wife, Lu, and their two small children. Sam, general manager of a department store, is an incurable Good Samaritan, the kind of fellow everybody in the community turns to in trouble, and he is never able to learn the lesson that charity begins at home. His long-suffering wife makes plans for the family's betterment, only to have them ruined when fresh examples of Sam's uncontrollable generosity involve the family in sometimes poignant and sometimes hilarious complications.

'Monte Cristo' Film Treat For All Fans

"The Countess of Monte Cristo," latest and most entertaining of Hollywood's "ice-spectacle" pictures, opens today at the Odeon Theatre. Sonja Henie has the starring role and is supported by such popular favorites as Olga San Juan, Dorothy Hart, Michael Kirby, Arthur Treacher and Freddy Trenkler. The new film, presented by Universal-International is the eleventh and one of the best made by the little star of rink and screen.

The big skating numbers, led by Miss Henie, are among the finest ever made by her in a film. They indicate that Sonja is as good or perhaps even better than she has ever been on the ice, although her skating career dates back to her young girlhood.

'The Velvet Touch' Held At Dominion

Backstage drama and its outcome comprise the story of "The Velvet Touch," the Independent Artists' production for RKO Radio release, co-starring Rosalind Russell, Leo Genn, Claire Trevor and Sydney Greenstreet, currently at the Dominion.

An actress' struggle with her conscience, after she has killed her producer in a heated quarrel, motivates the unusual plot. No one suspects her of the crime, and she has strong reasons for wanting to remain unsuspected, but when another actress is accused, she realizes her responsibility. How she meets it, is absorbingly told in the film, which was directed by John Gage.

Leon Ames, Frank McHugh, Walter Kingsford and Dan Tobin are featured in the offering directed by John Gage.

PLAZA THEATRE

News-shattering headlines last Dec. 30 informed an America celebrating the holiday season that 12 of the most desperate inmates of the Colorado State Penitentiary had broken out and were being hunted in the Canon City locale.

For more than 72 hours, an anxious nation heard and watched the greatest manhunt in recent years. People in Canon City bolted their doors and didn't venture out until the last of the dozen desperados were retaken or reported dead.

The excitement, suspense and thrills that swept the country during this mad attempt at freedom has been realistically transported to the screen in Eagle Lion's "Canon City," the drama-packed, semi-factual movie story of the daring Colorado jail break, which is now at the Plaza Theatre.

Ottawa Inquires Into Increase In Vancouver Jobless

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent told the Commons Tuesday the government would look into the unemployment situation in Vancouver "immediately" to determine whether it is "one which requires assistance" from the Dominion.

Replying to Angus MacInnis (C.C.F., Vancouver East), he said the government would consider the matter on the basis of the results of its investigation.

He told George Cruickshank (L., Fraser Valley), those pursuing the federal inquiry would be "under instructions to proceed as expeditiously as is feasible."

Mr. MacInnis read a telegram from the Canadian Legion at Vancouver reporting the unemployment situation was an "emergency" comparable with the British Columbia floods last summer.

Argentina Seizes Printers' Union

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The Argentine Labor Department took over the printers' union Tuesday and opened the way to end a strike that has kept Buenos Aires without newspapers for eight days.

President Juan D. Peron's action in seizing the union had the effect of ousting union officers who have been in conflict with the striking printers.

The battle within the union began Feb. 1 when members refused to accept a new contract signed by their officers on the grounds that the wage boosts were insufficient. The officers ordered the men to return to work. When they refused the Labor Department declared the strike illegal.

Some 60,000 workers are involved in the strike.

Four Ranking Stars At Atlas

"The Woman in White," one of the most celebrated mystery stories ever written, has been transferred to the screen under Warner Bros. banner, and is the new attraction opening today at the Atlas Theatre. The studio assigned no less than four top-ranking stars, Eleanor Parker, Alexis Smith, Sydney Greenstreet and Gig Young, to play the leading parts in this famous Wilkie Collins story. Augmenting this brilliant quartet are Agnes Moorehead and John Emery.

Tsingtao Believes All Will Eat When Reds Come

Tsingtao, on the North China coast, is the anchorage for the United States Western Pacific Fleet. Tsingtao and Taiyuan, an inland provincial capital, are the last major cities in North China remaining in Nationalist hands. Here's an A.P. photographer's report on the hectic situation at Tsingtao.

By CHARLES GORRY
SHANGHAI (AP)—Tsingtao is a city of uncertainty.

Two months ago the people of Tsingtao cheered the sight of a U.S. jeep. Today they throw stones at it. They blocked my way, refusing to let my jeep pass. Some shook their fists at me.

Their attitude seems to depend on the latest rumor as to whether the United States Navy is leaving or not. It varies from cheerful friendship toward Americans to open hostility.

I have just returned from Tsingtao in a navy vessel evacuating 265 stateless persons, who will proceed to various destinations throughout the world.

Tsingtao, meanwhile, is all set to go communist.

The mayor and police chief have departed, leaving subordinates whom they think will be acceptable to the Reds.

The Chinese Navy is pulling out with naval academy equipment.

Chinese Nationalist troops remaining in the city lack discipline. They often stand around, idly firing rifles into the air.

The Reds need not battle to take the city. As I traveled about in Tsingtao, the people all had the same comment: "When Goodman."

Council Approves Study On City Advisor Plan

Ald. Williams Says Time For Change To Overcome Lack Of Coordination

A finance committee was empowered to investigate thoroughly the advisability of securing a city advisor, by City Council Tuesday afternoon, on recommendation of Ald. Ed. Williams.

He claimed a definite lack of coordination at City Hall and said he was fully convinced that the time had come for a change in the internal workings of the City Hall.

Council favored his plan, following deletion of his proposal that the committee be empowered to call for an interview applicants for the position of city advisor.

"The finance committee is not stealing any individual thunder from an alderman or committee, for the question of a city advisor has come before the council many times in the past 10 to 15 years," Ald. Williams said. "It has been considered time and time again."

He said the City Hall was not running in a thoroughly business-like manner and now was the time to start the ball rolling to see that "we are more or less up-to-date in every possible way."

He made brief reference to a motion which had just come before council to rectify a mistake made in adding up the cost of the water supply system to be sold the Greater Victoria District Water Board.

Ald. M. Aubrey Kent, who has discussed civic administration a number of times before council, said he was surprised but pleased at Ald. Williams' recommendation.

"I had no knowledge this was being considered at all," he said. "As for stealing my thunder, that's the least of my worries."

Ald. Waldo Skillings said he approved of the move in principle but did not agree with calling for applicants until the duties of the office were known and outlined.

Ald. Kent seconded Ald. Skillings, stating council would not get anyone to apply for the position until he knew what his powers would be.

"You won't find the man we want walking around the street," he said. "He will be employed somewhere and it will be up to the city to bid for his services."

Mayor Percy George reiterated his opposition to a city manager proposition, which he felt could become dictatorial, but agreed with the word administrator or advisor.

"I quite agree with an administrator," he said. "The pressure in the mayor's office is unbearable."

He urged council not to confuse an administrator with city manager, as the two had quite different duties.

"I take no umbrage at this being introduced at this time, even though council gave the clearance committee a six month's trial," Mayor George said. "The committee have not had an opportunity to get into stride."

Special Committee To Study City Hall Repairs, Additions

The much-needed rehabilitation and modernization of city hall facilities and the oft-mooted idea of an addition will be studied by a special committee of four, struck by Mayor Percy George at City Council meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Aldermen Ed Williams, H. M. Diggon, Dr. J. D. Hunter and M. A. Kent comprise the committee.

"As a close physical examination may well point to the inadvisability of the city spending little, if any, on our present City Hall, it may be necessary for the committee to again open the question of a new City Hall," the mayor said.

He referred to council's concern with regard to the "present crowded condition and general obsolescence of the City Hall internally," and recommendations as made in his inaugural address.

He asked the committee to give special attention to "the utilitarian, aesthetic and economic potentialities of the building and keep in mind the location and age of same."

A letter was received from J. W. Oosterink, city building inspector, in which he asked council to give "early and serious attention" to repair work.

"This repair work should have been done last year, but although the city hall committee was appointed, nothing resulted," Mr. Oosterink said. "Major repair jobs will have to be done to the roof, gutters and certain parts of the brickwork on the north side which are crumbling, and the plaster is loose in many places."

Council approved a recommendation that the city purchase an agent be authorized to purchase from the Saanich Garage and Supply, one Hardie Power Sprayer at a cost of $1,813 for use in the parks department. Funds for the purchase are to be provided in the 1949 estimates of expenditure.

Victoria Free Port City Council Told

Esquimalt and Victoria are free ports in the same sense as Hong Kong, A. J. Patton, city solicitor, told city council meeting Tuesday afternoon, in presentation of a six-page brief and two-page covering letter, on the history of Victoria as a port.

"What effect will this have, what different position will it put Victoria in, if the news is broadcast to the world, that Victoria is a free port?" queried Ald. Ed Williams.

"You won't be able to keep merchants or shipping from the harbor, since there would be no harbor dues to pay and no tariffs," Mr. Patton told him.

Ald. F. G. Mulliner said: "It will also mean that Vancouver will get in touch with Ottawa, Ottawa with London, and they'll abrogate the whole thing."

Mayor Percy George referred to the rosy picture painted by Mr. Patton, but urged that the matter not be left on the table but cleared up. He asked aldermen to study the brief.

Mayor Scores Lack Of Saanich Help

Refusal of Saanich to help maintain Welfare House on Pandora Avenue, was received at city council meeting Tuesday afternoon.

"It's a pity," remarked Mayor Percy George. "While they may be within their legal rights, we have to maintain all these services. It's just no, no, no, all along the line."

He said it would amaze citizens if they realized all the services the city of Victoria must keep up, though other municipalities share in the service.

Ask Repair, Removal Of 12 Buildings

Repair or removal of 12 buildings within 60 days after they become vacant was recommended by the health committee and approved at city council meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Five were in one block on Johnson Street, two in one block on Pandora, two on Douglas, and one each on Princess Avenue, Blanshard Street and Esquimalt Road.

G. L. Smith, sanitary inspector; J. W. Oosterink, building inspector; and R. T. Brindle, fire chief, inspected the buildings.

Recommendation of the committee that a by-law for regulating the sanitation of food and food establishments be referred to the city solicitor for review and formal submission to council, was approved. The committee had studied and approved the draft of the by-law.

Any person guilty of any infraction of the by-law shall on summary conviction be liable to a penalty of not more than $100 and costs.

Urges Half Holiday On Newfoundland Entry

Several suggestions for the Provincial government, to mark the formal entry of Newfoundland into confederacy of Canadian provinces, were outlined by Mayor Percy George and approved by council, at a meeting Tuesday afternoon.

He urged proclamation of a half-day holiday for students and a study period devoted to discussion on Newfoundland. He suggested that pastors of churches be asked to take cognizance of the event in their sermon remarks and service clubs impress on membership the importance of the move by speakers.

Business houses and commercial organizations could be asked to have window displays, he said, adding that the welcome of the city of Victoria be included in any message that might be sent by the Provincial government.

Council Promises Minister To Uphold Municipal Act

Saanich Council at Tuesday's meeting endorsed a motion notifying Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. McDonald that it fully "intended to uphold the Municipal Act and statutory rules" at all further council meetings.

The motion was an answer to Mr. McDonald's warning against any further breach and violation of the Municipal Act. He charged the council last Friday of disregarding statutory rules in the conduct of municipal affairs, after 300 Saanich ratepayers asked the minister for "a full scale investigation into their municipal government. He refused to conduct the investigation."

The motion was passed only after older council members tried to blame each other for disregarding statutory regulations in conducting the affairs of the municipality. They met with no apparent success.

Reeve E. C. Warren thought the minister's letter to the council complaining of a breach of administration principles should also have mentioned the time and date the Saanich Council had disregarded statutory rules.

He said he could only remember one occasion when the council had violated the Municipal Act, and that was in 1942.

"And who was reeve in 1942?" questioned Councillor L. Passmore.

"I was," said the reeve.

"Then why did you not stop it?" asked the councillor.

A lengthy explanation followed with minor interruptions from councillor W. C. Kersey.

Finally Councillor Passmore expressed the opinion that the whole council was to blame for breaches of administration principles. Of course, he added, the reeve had started the confusion.

Reeve Warren would not agree to this. Councillor E. P. Cummings and K. R. Genn at the same time tried to exempt themselves from all blame for some of the violations.

While the older members argued and debated the issue, new members sat back and smiled whimsically at the proceedings.

Saanich Council Turns Down Plebiscite On Ward System

Councillor Leslie Passmore at Tuesday's council meeting could find no second to his motion which asked for a plebiscite at the next municipal elections on the question of whether or not ratepayers favored the ward system.

"Let us ask the people if they are in favor of the ward system or electing their councillors at large," said the representative of Ward 7. "The present system is unfair and I think the matter should be submitted to the ratepayers."

Mr. Passmore said under the present system each councillor only worked on behalf of his ward and was not interested in the welfare of the whole municipality.

Councillor William Bond agreed that the matter should be put to the ratepayers, but like the rest of the councillors remained silent when Reeve E. C. Warren called for someone to second the motion.

Mr. Passmore told the council that as his motion had failed, he intended to apply to the council to realign the ward boundaries of Ward 7.

"We pay more taxes than any other ward," he said, "and we are of the opinion that something should be done about this."

He said if he could not get action from the council, he would see if the ward could obtain some redress on the matter of

School Estimates Go To Comptroller

Estimates of the Greater Victoria School Board for expenditures for 1949 totalling $1,435,276, of which the city's share is $875,288, were referred to the city comptroller's department by City Council at its meeting, Tuesday afternoon.

"Citizens who think you can lower taxes in the face of this, may be able to pull rabbits out of a hat," commented Mayor Percy George, as he referred to the recent arbitration award for teachers' salary adjustments totalling $187,000.

Seek To Do Away With Congestion On Broad

Lengthy discussion ensued at City Council meeting Tuesday afternoon when Ald. F. G. Mulliner introduced a motion that police be urged to secure strict compliance with all street traffic by-laws governing the parking on the east side of Broad Street, between View and Fort Streets.

He referred to the "congested condition of vehicular and pedestrian traffic," and said Broad Street at that point was a menace. The matter however, was tabled for a further two weeks.

"We've got to get some action on Broad Street," said Mayor Percy George. "There was an impass Monday morning. Two police were powerless to do anything."

City Council at its meeting Tuesday afternoon approved a recommendation of the fire wardens committee that the duties of secretary to the wardens be transferred from Charles Cooper to F. M. Waller, secretary to the committee.

eye: "The time has come when we must get up to date. Even if we can't be in our building, we can be at least in our administration."

He added that the city could put any statement on the envelopes such as "follow the birds," or "no snow in Victoria."

New Postage Machine Aids 'Modernization'

As another spoke in the wheel of a modernized civic administration, Ald. Ed Williams, chairman of the city's finance committee recommended purchase of a postage metre at a cost of $250, which will stamp letters and seal the envelopes.

Council Tuesday afternoon approved the recommendation, when Ald. Williams told the meeting, with a twinkle in his

Saanich Council Frowns On Secession Motion Of Ward 6

Ward 6 ratepayers, through their councillor, W. C. Kersey, failed in another attempt to obtain the approval of Saanich council at Tuesday's meeting for the secession of the ward from the municipality.

W. C. Kersey said a secession petition of Ward 6 had been submitted to Municipal Affairs Minister R. C. McDonald several years ago. He felt that if the council endorsed the petition, the minister would be obliged to take some action on the matter.

Councillor Les Passmore fully supported the motion on the grounds that secession of Ward 6 would be advantageous to Ward 7.

"We are tired of paying out taxes for other wards," he said. "It is impossible to get urban and rural areas to co-operate effectively."

The remainder of the council opposed the motion. Sidney Pickles, president of Ward 6 Ratepayers' Association, was present but was not given an opportunity to address the meeting. Mr. Pickles is strongly in favor of secession.

Airpark Issue At Standstill As Council Rescinds Motion

The 57½-acre Gordon Head airpark site was the subject of a four-page brief and six-page appendix presented by Ald. Ed. Williams to city council meeting Tuesday afternoon, following the reading of which council decided to rescind a former motion that the government be requested to have the property deeded to the city free of any restrictions.

The whole airpark issue was thus brought to a standstill, with the city making no move one way or the other. The site, so far as the city is concerned, is still a potential airport.

Because voters in Saanich turned down establishment of the airport in last December's election, does not mean that they are not free to change their views and vote differently at any subsequent time, Ald. Williams told council.

"The finality to this problem of having an airport is not settled, but the question of location is quite another matter," he said.

Saanich voters at the same election voted against the proposed sewer by-law, he continued. "Therefore, by analogy, would it be fair to say that Saanich should never have a sewer system. I think not. Is this also a dead issue? I think not."

"The sooner we all recognize that Vancouver Island is, more than any other locality on this coast, affected by air travel, the sooner we will wake up to the fact that we have lost our greatest opportunity to progress should we fail to accomplish that which all other cities, towns and even villages are straining to do, that is, to provide airpark facilities for light aircraft within easy reach of populated centres.

"I submit that this is a matter for the greatest good to the greatest number and we must see it that way, not be circumscribed by the thoughts of those who wish to live unto themselves only."

Ald. Williams took his colleagues over the entire history of the airpark issue and said the Saanich council was a party to the negotiations for purchase by the city of the site for $20,000.

The city, he said, was accused by Saanich of "manoeuvring" and he said reports that the Saanich reeve termed it impudence on the city's part for not having come to them when the airpark plan was first mooted, were not according to the facts and uncalled for.

"This council has been advised by its legal department that this property should remain in status quo, so that it may be dealt with as the circumstances from time to time present themselves, and not to ask the government at this time to remove the restrictions nor to otherwise establish any policy regarding it."

Council Agrees To Share Costs Of Tennis Courts

Recommendation of the parks and boulevards committee that the city provide funds on a dollar-for-dollar basis with residents of certain localities and organizations, from time to time as requested, in an endeavor to provide more tennis courts throughout the city, was approved by the city council at its meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Council approved a recommendation that the city purchase an agent be authorized to purchase from the Saanich Garage and Supply, one Hardie Power Sprayer at a cost of $1,813 for use in the parks department. Funds for the purchase are to be provided in the 1949 estimates of expenditure.

Alternate maple and elm trees will be removed from McClure Street and Rockland Avenue between Vancouver and Cook Streets following receipt of petitions from the majority of property owners, who recorded no opposition to the action.

Half the remaining ash trees on Sutley Street will be removed. The street was replanted with a smaller type of tree some years ago.

Alderman Commands Assistant City Clerk

Ald. Ed. Williams took time out during the reading of his airpark brief Tuesday to command Percy Wright, assistant city clerk for his excellent work in taking, writing and compiling minutes and reports of airpark meetings.

"A bouquet doesn't hurt anyone," said Ald. Williams as he publicly complimented Mr. Wright. Ald. Williams spent the week-end studying and reviewing all reports and minutes on the airpark, since the first negotiations were held.

City Fathers Need Tea At 4 To See Them Through The Day

An agenda of 34 items, several briefs and discussion on 100 and one subjects ranging from city hall administration to the state of the consumers' fuel, proved one thing to city aldermen Tuesday afternoon.

They need a cup of tea to carry them through a meeting of four hours and 10 minutes.

"We have been here for three hours and 50 minutes and my head is pounding," said Mayor Percy George as he glanced at the clock.

His Worship did not know it, but he still had another 20 minutes to go. His suggestion of tea at 4 was well received with merry quips coming from Ald. H. M. Diggon and Ald. Ed. Williams, who seemed heartily in favor.

City Allows Street Circus Over Aldermanic Protest

Victoria was accused of returning to the "village" stage at city council meeting Tuesday afternoon.

H. Myerhoff, owner-manager of the Crescent Shows, asked permission to set up his show on Blanshard Street, May 16 to May 24 and offered to contribute $1500 to the Greater Victoria May 24 celebrations. Permission was granted, with Ald. F. G. Mulliner and Ald. J. D. Hunter opposed.

"I am absolutely opposed to circuses on our city streets," said Ald. Mulliner, touching off the discussion. "There's a park three blocks from Government. Why have we to get back to the village stage?"

He advocated the city contributing $1500 to the May 24 celebrations. That suggestion, however, did not go well with chairman of the finance committee, Ald. Ed Williams.

"We can't get $1500 any easier than that," he said. "The end of Blanshard Street is the safest spot for children. It's a good, clean show. There was absolutely no trouble last year and there is no need for opposition."

Ald. Charles Banfield said no damage was done last year. He said the show was for little tots from two to six years of age.

Ald. Hunter said he was not opposing the show, but the location. He felt it might interfere with construction of the arena, and said city streets were not the proper place to stage a circus of this kind.

Rep Line-Up Changed For Vancouver Match

In an effort to find a winning combination, Victoria's Rep selection committee this week announced a number of changes in the Crimson Tide line-up for the English rugby McKeezie Cup match with Vancouver Lions at Vancouver Saturday.

At least six players, five of whom failed to see action in the game against U.B.C. Thunderbirds here last month, will be added to the team's roster in starting positions.

Buddy Lott, former U.B.C. player, who replaced the injured Gerry Main in the Varsity game, will likely get the call for the five-eighths post with Main taking over at centre three-quarter. Roger Ross, a rep choice for the first McKeezie Cup game against the Lions, will be back in the line-up at the other centre position on the three-quarter line.

Wings will be holdovers John Campbell and John Hicks but the fullback position will be filled by Harry Olson who replaces Frank Watson. Olson, a strong kicker, is a veteran of rep play and his experience should greatly aid the Tide cause. Bal Skilling remains at scrum-half. Three changes have also been

Olympiad Shows $119,400 Profit

Vancouver-Tacoma Score Impressive Hockey Wins

The Vancouver Canucks opened their first invasion of the southern division of the Pacific Coast Hockey League this year with an impressive 5 to 3 victory over the Oaks at Oakland Tuesday night.

The impressive thing was not the score, but the way the Canucks took command in the third period to come from behind and win.

Opening the final period on the short end of a 3 to 1 count, the Canadian club completely disrupted the Oak defence and rammed home three goals in six minutes in the middle of the period. In another unusual game—in that no penalties were called for the entire three periods—the Fresno Falcons edged the San Francisco Shamrocks, 5 to 4, in Fresno.

In the northern division, the Tacoma Rockets staved off a third period thrust by the New Westminster Royals to top the division leaders, 3 to 2.

The 10-minute misconduct penalties were called in the final period. One was against Dutch Evers of New Westminster, who took time out to take a poke at a spectator.

The other went to Doug Stevenson, Tacoma goalie, who pounded too vigorously on the ice with his stick after a Tacoma penalty.

Sudbury Team Victims Of Weird Refereeing

Canadian Players Banished For Disputing Calls In Loss To Czechs

STOCKHOLM (CP) — Wide-open Canadian hockey has brought troubles to Sudbury Wolves, as the Dominion's representatives at the world amateur hockey championships.

During the Canadians' first game in the round-robin finals, which the Wolves dropped to Czechoslovakia 3 to 2 last night on a disputed goal, a fracas occurred which is in the hands of the international jury of the tournament.

It happened this way: During the last few minutes of play, Tom Russell of Hamilton, Ont., flung his stick to the ice and tackled two Czech players. Referee G.

H. Ahlin of Sweden banished him to the penalty box and then ordered him to leave the stadium.

Later during the game, which brought heartaches to the Canadians and dimmed their hopes of retaining the trophy which the R.C.A.F. Flyers won last winter at the winter Olympics, John Kovich, who played the last two seasons with Junior Porcupine (Ont.) Combines was penalized for "kicking" a Czech player.

GOALIE SKATES OFF

Seconds later, when Tom Russell joined him in the cooler, goalie Al Prichard found only three men in front of him. Disheartened, he pulled off his gloves and skated off the ice in protest. However, he soon returned to the nets.

The Czechs won the game on a dubious goal while the Canadian team was two men short in the second period. Augustin Bubnik tallied while his stick was high above his head after a pass from Zabrudsky. Later Zabrudsky admitted he didn't think it was a good goal, with most observers agreeing.

After the Czechs had scored a goal which the Canadian team didn't approve of, Joe Tergesen of Gimli, Man., tried to have a talk with referee Ahlin about the disputed goal. Ahlin refused to discuss the Canadian protests with Tergesen and gave Tergesen something he never read in a

Canadian rule book—a penalty for "bad sportsmanship."

Ray Bauer of Waterloo, Ont., and Jim Russell of Hamilton garnered the "Canadian" tallies while Czechoslovakian marksmen were Zabrudsky, Bubnik and Stanislav.

SWEDEN WINS EASILY

The United States, favored team in the tournament, also suffered defeat yesterday, losing to Switzerland 5 to 4. Sweden galloped to an 18 to 0 victory over Austria in the other game.

Both Sweden, Czechoslovakia and Switzerland have garnered two points with their victories yesterday. Canada, the United States and Austria are tied in second spot with no points. The tournament is to be decided on points but in case of a tie the team's goal average will be taken into account.

Today the International Ice Hockey Directorate ruled that the result of the game shall stand. Canada had lodged a protest against the decision of Referee Ahlin to allow the second Czech goal on the grounds that it was scored with a stick in the air.

The Directorate also warned player Russell for fighting with members of the Czech team. It ruled that if any further incidents of fighting or similar offences occur in the tournament the players involved will be barred from further competition.

Alouettes Pick Off Much-Sought Filchok

MONTREAL (CP)—Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four came up Tuesday with the prize plum of the 1949 football season—the signing of flinging Frankie Filchok who has been a crowd-drawing ace of the game as a player-coach for Hamilton Tigers.

How much and under what terms Filchok signed, aside from the fact that he joined Alouettes for two years, remained a matter strictly between the club and flinging Frankie.

But it was known the Alouettes topped offers from such clubs as Edmonton, Ottawa and Winnipeg for the 33-year-old passer-extraordinary from Pittsburgh, Pa.

Obtaining of Filchok's signature on an Alouette contract brought fruition to attempts made to get him last summer when, even though he had no contract with Hamilton he felt he should stay there out of loyalty to the club which he joined after being allowed to play football in Canada.

As a matter of fact all three final league games ended in identical 22-to-14 scores. With Alouettes Filchok will be strictly a player while Lew Egan continues with coaching though Lew let it be known that Filchok may help in instruction of passers.

Filchok, married with two children, played college football at University of Wisconsin and later joined professional ranks with Washington Redskins where he understudied the great slinging Sammy Baugh before shifting to New York Giants to become a member of the National League's "big three" of Baugh, Sid Luckman and Filchok.

With Alouettes Filchok will be strictly a player while Lew Egan continues with coaching though Lew let it be known that Filchok may help in instruction of passers.

DIRECTORS of the Western International Baseball League are back home with a feeling of relief. The muddled situation surrounding the Spokane club has finally been cleared up and there is every indication the 1948 pennant winners will be ready to usher in the season at home come April. Roy Hotchkiss, new co-owner of the Indians with Lamar Butler, is reported to be popular with sports fans in the inland Washington city, and there is a feeling he will eventually buy out Butler to gain complete control of the club.

WHILE in Seattle for the annual league banquet for the sports writers, heard that Jim Brillheart stands a good chance to become the Spokane manager for the 1949 campaign. Brillheart, it will be remembered, enjoyed great success with the Tacoma club through the greater part of last season, finally being moved up to take over the reins of the parent San Diego outfit in the Coast League. Brillheart failed to impress with the triple A club and was cut adrift at the end of the season. A mild, soft-spoken chap, the former pitching star was popular around the W.I.L. circuit, and his return would be welcomed.

DON CODVILLE of Duncan certainly ranks as one of the outstanding young boxers in the province following his victory in the Vancouver Sun Golden Gloves last week-end. Winner of the Times Golden Boy award as a welterweight, Codville just managed to squeak under the lightweight limit for the B.C. championships. Though weakened by the effort, he put up a splendid showing and in defeating Vancouver's Ken McPhee knocked off a strong pre-tournament favorite. McPhee, who finds it hard to get a fight in Vancouver except in tournaments of this kind, easily met his equal in Codville as the result showed.

ART BURGESS, Esquimalt lightweight, who lost a close decision to Jack O'Neill in the V.I. Gloves, got a tough break when he drew Codville in the semifinals. Burgess, although hurt in the second round by two hard right hands, weathered the storm and kept away from further damage by clever boxing. It marked the second straight year that Burgess had gained the semifinals only to lose out with his goal in sight. In last year's tournament he hooked up with Stan Almond, one of Vancouver's best, and was knocked out. He was a well-received choice for the most sportsmanlike trophy.

Wrestling promoter Rocky Brooks today announced his special bout for Saturday night's card at the Armory. Al Alexander will battle Billy Hunter in a bout scheduled for two out of three falls with a one hour time limit.

Feature of the show will be a return tag team bout between Suga Hayamaka and Whitey Wahlberg against Tony Ross and Buck Davidson.

First bout will start at 8.30.

Oakland Pitchers Demand More Money

OAKLAND (AP) — Southpaw Charley Gassaway and right hander Ralph Buxton, two of Oakland Oaks best pitchers, are demanding more pay.

Gassaway has returned his contract unsigned from Nashville, Tenn. He won 15, lost eight last year.

Buxton told friends his proposed new contract calls for exactly the same pay as last year, when he won 13 against three defeats to help Oaks win the 1948 Pacific Coast League championship.

Victoria West soccer practice scheduled tonight has been cancelled due to ground conditions.

Chicago Can Deadlock Canadiens With Win

Montreal Canadiens will raise a few grudging cheers for Boston tonight when the Bruins meet Chicago Black Hawks in one of the two scheduled National Hockey League games.

The Habitués, who have been teetering along in fourth place for weeks because of injuries, are idle, and if Chicago wins, the Hawks will be in a tie with the Canucks. On the other hand, the Canadiens haven't much chance of catching up with the second-place Bruins.

The other game, between the front-running Detroit Red Wings and the last place New York Rangers, won't affect the standings.

Chicago's Gus Bodnar will be out of the line-up until Sunday night. He injured his jaw in a collision with Murph Chamberlain in last Sunday's Chicago-Montreal game and although no bones were broken, he was advised to take a few days off.

Besides the team position, Chicago's top snipers will be shooting for goals to bolster their records. Line-mates Roy Conacher and Doug Bentley are tied for first place in scoring, 13 points ahead of any other player.

MEERER TO RETURN
The perennial feud between Montreal and Toronto will be renewed Thursday when the teams play the only game scheduled. Howie Meeker, Leaf right wing, who has been out of action with a fractured shoulder since Dec. 26, will be back in action.

Defenceman Butch Bouchard and Kenny Reardon of Montreal don't expect to be back as both are nursing injuries. Bouchard is still recovering from an early season leg injury and Reardon recently suffered a separated shoulder.

Pug Young of Edmonton, is the league badman with 129 minutes—more than two full games—spent in the penalty box.

Mills Turns Down $30,000 Fight Offer

LONDON (AP) — Freddie Mills, world light-heavyweight boxing champion, has turned down a $30,000 offer for a title fight in the United States with Harold Johnson of Philadelphia.

Manager Ted Broadbent said he had cabled American promoter Pete Moran that Mills is "not interested" in laying his title on the line for that amount.

"We have turned down offers twice as big as that for Mills to fight in America," Broadbent added. "If Johnson beats Gus Lesnevich, former world champion, we might become interested."

HONOLULU — Phillip Kim, 14½, Honolulu, knocked out Archie Whitewater, 136, Oakland, Calif., 8.

Vic High Cagers Meet Varsity All-Star Squad

A first-rate hoop card is on the menu for local cage fans Friday night when the Vic High rep quintette stacks up against the U.B.C. intermediate A all-star squad in an exhibition tilt at the High School gym.

To open the program, Sheila Stanley's Vic High rep girls' squad will play host to Victoria College in a return exhibition tilt. The Vic High squad, still unbeaten, scored a narrow decision over Collegians in a previous match, and the game will likely be a thriller as the teams are fairly evenly matched. Game time is 8.

U.B.C., which houses three intermediate A clubs, has banded the pick of the squads together to enter the provincial play-offs. Team is in a higher age Game will start at 9 and the Vic High Drum Majorettes will give a display at the halfway intermission.

Gordie Perkins Graduates From Bill McGowan's Umpires School

"I consider myself lucky to have had such an opportunity," Gordie Perkins, well-known city athlete and sports official, said yesterday following his return from a five-weeks' course at Bill McGowan's baseball umpiring school in Cocoa, Florida.

Perkins, who took it on his own to attend McGowan's school, had nothing but praise for the instructors, and said that anyone contemplating baseball umpiring as a career should attend such a school. "There is more to learn in five weeks than can be told in words," Perkins said.

"The instructors just pour out their hearts to you from morning to night, imparting all the knowledge gained through years of experience."

They don't promise you a job on completion of the course, Perkins said. It's strictly up to you and everyone is judged on their merits.

Keen on the game and desirous of making baseball umpiring his career, Perkins made the grade and will embark on his new career in a few weeks. But as yet he doesn't know where he will be located.

There are 10 professional instructors at the school, including Art Passarella and McGowan of the American League, and other minor league umpires, all of whom are graduates of the school. Selections for positions are made on the recommendations of the instructors to minor league presidents who visit the school personally to select their own men.

REAL TRAINING

First week of the course is devoted to teaching the proper method of calling plays, following which the pupils receive training in actual games.

When two of the students are umpiring, the remainder go into the stands with instructors and are shown the mistakes of the boys on the field.

Classes usually start at 9 in the morning and continue until 4 in the afternoon with additional instruction being given at evening classes. Periodic examinations are held on rules, rule interpretations and other aspects of the game, including practical work.

Besides Perkins, four other Canadian boys attended this year's school. All graduated and will be sent to minor leagues this spring.

Any young interested Canadians wishing to make umpiring a career can contact McGowan for the next five weeks at Indian River Hotel, Rockledge, Florida, or after that can write to P.O. Box 4157 Chevy Chase, Maryland.

Max Bentley Selects Odd Names For Colts

TORONTO (CP) — Western turf fans better be on the lookout this summer for a two-year-old named Four-Bo, carrying the blue and white silks of the Toronto Maple Leafs. Four-Bo is the colt Max Bentley obtained from breeder Charlie Hemstead for scoring a goal here last Saturday.

Donning a 10-gallon hat, the Delisle, Sask., hockey star chose the racer from among 14 others at Hemstead's Thornhill Farm. Said Max: "The name was the nearest I could get to tie in with those four goals I scored over the last week-end." As he was taking the ice against Detroit Red Wings in a National League game Saturday night, Hemstead said to Bentley: "If you score right now I'll give you a horse."

STABLE OF TWO

Four Bo will soon have a stablemate because publisher George McCullagh also promised Maz a yearling for a winning goal he scored against the leading Wings a couple of weeks ago.

Four-Bo is by the noted Boswell, out of Four Flush.

Bentley's second runner will be named Lucky Teeder, after Ted Kennedy, captain of the Leafs.

"If it hadn't been for Teeder Kennedy I might not have been getting it," said Bentley, explaining why he wanted to name one horse after the captain. "He happened to mention to McCullagh that I was interested in buying a horse the night I scored the winning goal against Detroit a couple of weeks ago. McCullagh came over to me in the dressing room and told me not to bother buying one, he was going to give me one."

Westminster To Play United Here Saturday?

Shhhh!! Secretary Ed McKenzie said last night Westminster Royals would play Victoria United at Athletic Park Saturday in a Pacific Coast League soccer game.

That is unless the parks board rules the park unfit for play.

If the game goes on it will be the first action on the part of the Coast League clubs since Victoria took a flying visit to New Westminster on Dec. 18 but didn't play.

Soccer fans probably won't know the United when and if they take the field Saturday as in the lull between games manager Ro. Barnes has come up with goalie Bill McAllister of the Royals and John Pickburn from England.

Just who will start in the various positions for the locals is unknown at present as Barnes has a flock of conditioned players from which to choose. During the long layoff the team has been holding indoor workouts in the Armories and as a result should take the field in top shape.

A meeting has been scheduled this week between the Coast League executive and B.C. Soccer Commission to set dates for Anderson Cup games and the second-half schedule.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK (AP) — After Coaltown ran that record-equaling nine furlongs, trainer Ben Jones commented: "Citation would have whipped him." That probably is a plain statement of fact. Coaltown, one of this corner's favorites, is just about the fastest horse you ever saw, but Citation is the winning one.

What makes racing a sport instead of just a gambling device is that a real good horse will run until he drops rather than be beaten, and one which isn't so good often will stop when he finds a better horse alongside. Coaltown, the "speed" horse, proved he can go a distance when he did that mile and a furlong in 1:47.35 and was caught unofficially at the mile-and-a-quarter mark in 2:01.35 while being pulled up. That's fast enough to win most races. But if it came to a duel, you'd have to string along with Ben and pick Citation.

WORSE THAN PAINTED

Three basketball players who were teammates at Anderson, Ind., last season organized a house-painting company for summer employment. All went well until Charley Black and Price Brookfield were called out of town and left Boag Johnson to finish a job. When Charley and Price returned, they found their business had evaporated. Boag had used up his supply of paint, then had gone blithely on to finish the house in another color. What his partners didn't know was that Johnson is color blind.

DIDN'T TAKE OFFENCE

John Windy McCall, who'll

get another pitching trial with Boston Red Sox this spring, justified his nickname the third day in camp last year. Windy greeted Ted Williams: "Hi Ted, you aren't slipping are you? I see you've been here three days and every fence in the park still is standing."

School Estimates Greeted Sourly By Saanich Council

Saanich school bill will be $91,000 more this year than last year, John B. Tribe told the Saanich Municipal Council Tuesday.

Council members groaned. Mr. Tribe said estimates for the Greater Victoria School Board showed that the municipality's share was $237,400, compared with $168,400 in 1948. The clerk explained the increase represented 4.8 mills.

School costs in School District No. 63 were $79,500 as compared with $57,000 in 1948. The increase represented 5.8 mills.

Increased school costs drew a suggestion from Councillor Leslie Passmore that the provincial government take over the administration of schools in British Columbia.

"Let the government keep its 1 per cent of 3 per cent," said the councillor. "The government should be asked to take over the administration of our schools."

Reeve E. C. Warren said he was in favor of the government taking over the schools. It was pointed out that the increased costs this year were due to employment of additional teachers, salary adjustments for both teachers and maintenance staffs and increased expenses for maintenance.

Woman Attacked By Young Man

An extensive search by city police Tuesday night failed to uncover the youth who attacked Mrs. Elsie Erickson, 2541 Graham Street, in the vicinity of the North Ward School.

The young man stopped her around 7.50 and in response to his command, "Let's go for a walk," she screamed. Mrs. Erickson said the youth then pushed her down, struck her on the mouth and then ran away.

Mrs. Erickson made her way to North Ward School where the janitor notified police.

She was able to furnish police with a fair description of her assailant.

Shelbourne Street Flooded For Mile

Low-lying Shelbourne Street was almost entirely under water for over a mile, and cars took on the appearance of speedboats throwing out sheets of spray. Many cars were stalled when engines became soaked. Houses in the area appeared to be floating on lakes.

Hip Waders Needed As Waters Rise

School chums Ken MacKay and Evelyn Slater do not appear to be worried, but most people were looking for heavy boots and waders to walk flooded streets throughout Greater Victoria. This picture was taken at Bowker Creek crossing of Cadboro Bay Road.

Bowker Creek Overflows Banks

Bowker Creek, main drainage ditch through Saanich, the city and Oak Bay, overflowed its banks at several spots as heavy rains continued to pelt down today, melting snow and breaking frozen ground.

Ask City To Keep Up Grounds Of Bureau

A request from the Rotary Club that the city agree to keep up the gardens and grounds of the new Publicity Bureau building being constructed on Government Street, was referred to the city solicitor and parks committee at city council meeting Tuesday.

Referred to health committee was a letter from H. L. Best in which he asked council not to force demolition of the house he purchased at 2514 Graham Street. He said he bought the house without knowing it was condemned, when his family faced eviction and had nowhere else to go. He felt he could make alterations that would make the house conform to regulations.

Request of F. W. Baylis for rezoning of the southeast corner of Lillian and Wildwood to permit use of a lot for commercial purposes was referred to the lands and zoning committee. Mr. Baylis offered the city eight feet of property to round off the corner, which he said was a traffic hazard now.

Urge Provincial Teachers' Wage Scale

Recommendation to the council of Public Instruction that a provincial teachers' salary schedule be established and maintained in all public schools throughout the province, was made by a board of arbitration at Ganges.

Appeal Court Rules Loggers' Sentence To Be Reimposed

A sentence of three years' imprisonment imposed by Magistrate W. W. B. McInnes upon two Vancouver loggers who pleaded guilty to breaking $2,000 worth of store windows in Vancouver Jan. 4, have been ordered set aside by the Appeal Court Monday.

The court instructed the magistrate to re-sentence John Tolmie and William Rambo in accordance with the proper procedure as set down by the law.

The court ruled the sentence was illegal because the magistrate had taken into consideration, without the knowledge of the accused, reports that an anti-Semitic feeling led the two men to carry out their window smashing spree in Vancouver.

Before imposing sentence, Chief Justice McG. Sloan said the Magistrate should have asked both Tolmie and Rambo to concur or to deny the implications that their window smashing spree was based on anti-Semitism.

He pointed out that no anti-Semitism evidence was brought out at the trial of the two men. "We make no comment whatever on the severity or non-severity of sentence," the chief justice said.

The two loggers, through their counsel Alex. Fisher, appeal against the severity of sentence. Mr. Fisher said there was no reference to anti-Jewish feeling during the trial and few of the magistrate's statements in his report were backed by evidence produced at the trial.

The magistrate's report said the men had been talking politics in their room when the discussion took on a violent anti-Semitic turn and they decided to do something about it—smash windows.

Truck Skids Into Train At Nanaimo

Icy roads today caused a truck-train collision at an E. & N. Railway level crossing in Nanaimo.

The truck, property of Walls and Bradshaw, Nanaimo hardware store, skidded into the side of the diesel-driven freight train. No one was injured, but damages estimated at $200 were incurred by the vehicle.

CAR DAMAGED

About $100 damage was done to a car driven by Charles E. Rabb, Ash Road, at 8 Tuesday night when it was involved in an accident at Bellville and Government Streets, city police reported. The other car, they said, was driven by William H. Robertson, 3055 Dean Avenue, only sustained about $5 damage. No persons were hurt.

Some Not Conforming With Esquimalt Building By-Law

A charge that certain persons in Esquimalt were going ahead with building projects without first obtaining necessary permits, was laid before Esquimalt Council at a meeting Tuesday night by Edmund Fulcher, superintendent of works.

Mr. Fulcher said he had noticed three new houses going up for which no building permits had been issued, and had observed alterations being carried out to a building for which a building alterations permit had been refused by the council.

The works superintendent reported he had ordered the builders to stop work until such time as they obtained proper permits. He asked council to make some ruling as to what should be done in future in such cases.

He suggested the council could take legal action against the offending builders for not living up to the regulations set down in the municipal building by-law. He also suggested the by-law be revised and made more stringent.

Councillor G. R. Guillemaud supported the idea of prosecuting offenders of the building by-law.

MAKE TEST CASE

"If people are going ahead and ignoring our by-laws we should do something to stop them," he said. "We've never made a test case of any of these but I think the time has come for us to make a test case."

"They've been getting away with murder," Councillor Guillemaud charged.

Reeve A. I. Thomas suggested some of the latest offenders could be brought before a meeting of the council to explain themselves.

"It seems to me a lot of citizens hold this council in disregard," the reeve said. "I think if we brought a few of these people before us they'd realize what we are doing."

Councillor J. A. Ellis, dealing with the works superintendent's suggestion to revise the building by-law, noted the by-law was last revised only two years ago.

"It's up to date and is all right if it is lived up to," he said. "What does Mr. Fulcher suggest we do to revise it?"

Mr. Fulcher said the by-law in its present form was too long and too hard to understand. He said it could be shortened and the regulations contained in it be made more strict.

He thought it should be compulsory for any person building a house in the municipality to have a copy of the building by-law.

NOT CONTRACTORS

Mr. Fulcher made it clear to the council that he had no argument with contracting firms. They know what is in the by-law, he said.

"It's these fellows who are building their own houses. They don't take the trouble to read the by-law and then when they do something wrong they say, 'I didn't know about it.'"

While on the subject of building, Mr. Fulcher suggested persons intending to build in the municipality should consult the Municipal Hall to find out how deep they can dig in excavating for a basement.

"Some people dig far too deep," he said, "and later they come and tell us we should do something because their basement is flooding."

Following Mr. Fulcher's report, council voted to have a committee look into the matter of amending the by-law with a view to introducing some of his suggestions.

Council also decided to ask some of the latest offenders to appear at a future meeting and explain why they were not building in accordance with the municipal by-law.

To Seek Sanitation Regulations For Stores, Restaurants

Councillor A. C. Wurtele, Esquimalt Council's representative on the Union Board of Health, informed the council Tuesday night he intends to introduce a new by-law at the next council meeting, establishing sanitation regulations for all food stores and restaurants in the municipality.

He said the by-law will be similar to one which is to be put before the Victoria City Council.

If the by-law goes through, and there is little reason why it should not, regular inspection of food stores and restaurants will be carried out by officers of the Union Health Board to see that regulations set down in the by-law are carried out.

Esquimalt Briefs

Councillor A. C. Wurtele has been reappointed to represent Esquimalt Council on the Jubilee Hospital board of directors.

There were 11 cases of chicken pox reported among students of Esquimalt schools in January.

Esquimalt's population has been estimated by Dr. G. L. Gayton, medical health officer, as being 6,750. The B.C. directory gives the municipality's population as 4,500.

Good Support Given Clinic In Esquimalt

Seven different organizations have pledged their support to the Esquimalt Community Club which is sponsoring this week the first civilian blood transfusion clinic to be held in the municipality.

The groups which are backing the club's undertaking are: the Catholic Women's League, the I.O.E., the Women's Institute, the Esquimalt Legion, Order of WASHINGTON (AP)—A new proposal that Congress authorize construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway and power project was introduced Tuesday by Representative John Blatnik (Dem.-Minn.).

The Eastern Star, Parent-Teacher Association and the Esquimalt branch of the Red Cross.

The clinic is to be held at the Esquimalt Community Hall on Thursday from 1:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon and from 7 to 9 in the evening.

Hermit Stages Family Reunion

ENGLEHART, Ont. (CP)—Northern Ontario's hermit has cast off his rags and shorn his locks and is en route to Montreal for a reunion with his family.

Percy Leggett, the 56-year-old former Montreal business man, has been living for three years in a tent on a back concession near this community, about 25 miles south of Kirkland Lake.

Before leaving Monday night, he got a hair cut, a shave and a business man's suit.

"It's my intention to visit my mother and sister for a few days," Leggett said. "But I do not intend to remain away very long as there is so much work to do on my farm."

Esquimalt Couple Say They Won't Pay Taxes If Garbage Uncollected

The matter of garbage cans was again before Esquimalt Council at its meeting Tuesday night.

The matter first came up about five months ago when it was found a good many householders were not using proper containers in which to throw their refuse. At that time it was decided all residents should obtain regulation garbage cans.

To effect this, council decided no garbage collections would be made at houses where there were not proper cans. This has proved most successful except in a few cases.

A letter from a man and his wife who are included among the exceptions was read before the meeting of the Council Tuesday.

It said if the municipality didn't provide garbage service for them they would keep back some of their tax money this year.

"No fooling," the letter said, "no garbage collection, no taxes."

Councillor J. A. Ellis said he himself had instructed the collection men not to make calls at the house in question since the receptacle there weighed 48 pounds empty and that when it was full it was too heavy for one man to handle.

Those people are trying to sabotage and wreck our whole garbage collection system," Councillor Ellis said.

Councillor Charles Smith said he considered present garbage collection the best the municipality had ever had.

Council decided to continue its policy and instructed the municipal clerk to communicate with the writers of the letter, informing them they will get no service until they obtain a regulation garbage can.

Like modern architecture, the newer ideas in garden design are functional. First consider the use you will make of a garden, then plan it in the way that will best further this use. Naturalistic design, which seeks to produce an effect as nearly like nature as possible, does not often serve a functional purpose.

THOUSANDS have found it pays in safety and economy of operation to have taken our approved driving course.
